No Casualties Reported

Powerful Quake Rocks Alaska's Aleutian Chain

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP) — An earthquake, almost as powerful as a deadly one here last March 27, shook and rattled Alaska's Aleutian Island chain Wednesday night and touched off fears of tidal waves all around the Pacific.

But the powerful jolt at 12:06 a.m. Eastern Standard Time was centered in an unpopulated area. No casualties were reported. There were no reports of major damage.

And expected tidal waves, which sent thousands fleeing from coastal areas down the coast to California, in Hawaii, and in Japan didn't materialize.

All alerts were called off after a series of swells fanned out around the ocean, and people returned to their homes and coastal maritime activities were resumed.

The quake and tidal waves last March killed more than 100 persons in Alaska and spread devastation around the state. Many other Pacific areas were hard hit.

The Alaska Defense Command here reported Wednesday night's temblor was centered in the Amchitka area, a small island community out near the end of the Aleutian chain.

A command spokesman said airplane taxiways and masonry buildings at Shemya Island Air Station, about 100 miles west of Amchitka, were cracked. Extent of damage at Shemya and Amchitka were not available, military spokesman said. Other military installations in the Aleutians escaped damage, he reported.

Northern Japan apparently got the brunt of today's tidal waves, but no damage was reported.

In Crescent City, Calif., hard-hit by the tidal wave spawned by the quake last March, evacuation of low-lying areas was ordered. In San Francisco, police cleared the beaches but there was no general evacuation.

Residents of coastal areas in three Washington counties were evacuated, state civil defense headquarters at Olympia, Wash., reported.

Johnson Raps Violators Of U.N. Charter

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson said today the troubles besetting the United Nations do not stem from its charter, but from those nations which have violated the charter.

Reacting at a news conference to French President Charles de Gaulle's call for a five power conference to examine and perhaps revise the U.N. pact, Johnson said he would be glad to consider the proposal later, after it has been studied.

But the President said he does not see the charter itself as the basic problem.

"We believe that the problems of the United Nations are traceable not to the U.N. charter but to those countries which have violated either the spirit or the letter of the charter," he said.

Population Triples

BELGRADE — The capital of Yugoslavia now has 950,000 population. That is almost three times the city's population in 1940.

70 Booths Scheduled

Jaycees Set Home Show April 7-10 At 2nd St. Site

The date and site for the Junior Chamber of Commerce Home Show were announced when the show committee met Wednesday night to launch plans for the annual event.

The show will be April 7-10, inclusive, at the former Furniture City Building on 2nd St. Frank Potts, Home Show chairman, said the budget has been prepared and will be presented to the Jaycee Board of Directors Monday night.

Sale of booth space will begin immediately. Robert Owen and Jim Hoschar have been named to handle the booth sales.

There is 22,000 square feet of usable space in the building, owned by Andrew Longo of Steubenville. The show committee plans to utilize three floors.

There is a freight elevator and outside loading dock that can be used by the merchants in handling heavier merchandise.

This will make it more convenient in setting up the displays. The building also is well heated, the committee pointed out.

An estimated 70 booth spaces will be available. Merchants who had displays last year will be given the first selection. Any space remaining will be sold on a first-come, first-served basis. A floor plan is being prepared.

Anyone interested should contact Owen or Hoschar. Potts said other committees will be announced later as the plans progress.

He said the Federal Aviation Commission has promised a display for the show and various prominent guests are being lined up for appearances.

The committee will meet at the building Saturday afternoon at 1:30 for a complete inspection. The meeting last night was at Potts' home in Longview Heights, Calcutta.

Man Escapes Injury When His Car Flips

A 24-year-old Chester man escaped uninjured, but his 1961 auto was demolished Wednesday night when it rolled over a slight embankment on Route 66 and landed on its roof on the railroad tracks near the Globe Brick Co.

John F. McMullen of Park Pl. told the Hancock County sheriff's department he was en route toward New Cumberland when he was blinded by the lights of an approaching car.

His auto struck an icy spot on the highway, skidded out of control for 150 feet before rolling over the embankment, deputies were told.

McMullen said he crawled out of the wreckage, but was unable to flag down any passing motorists and walked back to Newell.

Meanwhile, an employee of the brick firm notified the sheriff's office after being unable to attract McMullen's attention, deputies said. The accident occurred about 8 p.m.

Independent Enters Lisbon Mayoral Race

Republicans Facing 4-Way Contest And Democrats Have 2

A last-minute Independent candidate entered for the Lisbon mayor's post with the County Election Board Wednesday afternoon, boosting to seven the number bidding for the office.

He is Gerald C. Sanders, 548 Thomas Rd.

Mayor Dean Stockman, the Republican incumbent, will be opposed in the primaries May 4 by William A. Seidner, Charles R. Webber and Robert P. Kelm.

Democrats have a two-way race for the mayoralty. The candidates are A. Monty Muntean and C. Robert McNally.

Republicans also have a three-way race for clerk-treasurer and a six-man contest for four Council nominations. Their candidates for Trustees of Public Affairs are unopposed.

Aside from the mayoralty, Democrats will settle one race — a five-man contest for four Council nominations.

As an Independent, Sanders will skip the primaries in May, although he was required to meet yesterday's filing deadline. His name will appear on the general election ballot in November.

Here's a complete list of the candidates:

REPUBLICAN
Mayor: William A. Seidner, Charles R. Webber, Dean Stockman and Robert P. Kelm.
Clerk-Treasurer: Ray A. Hempstead, John A. Ebert and Frank E. Henry.
Council (4 to nominate): Fayson Miller, Wilbur Mattix, Clyde B. Pike, Franklin Rudabaugh, John Blockson and Raymond E. Dixon.
Trustees of Public Affairs: (3 to nominate): Alfred J. Smith.

$7,000 Fire Razes Dwelling At Ohioville

Loss was estimated at $7,000 in a fire which destroyed a two-story frame home on Cow Hollow Rd., Ohioville, Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Fannie Nixon and several children escaped the blaze, which was blamed on an overheated coal furnace. The Ohioville and Midland Heights fire departments responded to the call at 4 p.m.

Johnson's Special Message

Improved Farm Supports Asked

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson told Congress today that farm price support programs should be continued and improved. He called for attention to other measures aimed at parity of opportunity for rural Americans.

In a special message, Johnson said the price programs, initiated 30 years ago in the administration of Franklin D. Roosevelt have helped create a commercially successful agriculture.

And over the past four years, he said, the price support programs have raised and sustained net farm income at an annual level of nearly a billion dollars above 1960.

"Few activities so dramatically indicate the value to farmers of good programs well-administered," Johnson wrote. "Yet the consumer is the major beneficiary of farm progress. While retail food prices have risen in recent years, the prices of what

2 Controversial School Bills

120 Measures Stuffed Into Legislature Coffers

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Legislative observers who believed the 106th General Assembly would have little to do as a result of the special session late last year were taking another look today.

More than 120 bills had been stuffed into the legislative coffers and they included two highly controversial school measures drawing widespread attention from virtually every corner of the state.

The Senate, which began receiving bills only two days ago, was handed one version of the so-called "fair school bus bill" Wednesday. It is similar to a measure that opened floodgates of mail on the lawmakers when introduced in the House at the start of the session a month ago.

Both would require school boards to provide bus transportation for students of parochial and private schools. They have the backing of the Ohio Council for Educational Freedom (CEF), an organization reportedly composed largely of Roman Catholics.

The other school measure was introduced in the House earlier this week as an initiated bill.

It would boost the state sales tax from three to four per cent to provide an additional $116 million a year for public education.

Passage of the school bus bill is seen as a possibility by some lawmakers while the outlook for the sales tax measure is somewhat bleak. In any event, a lot of debate and lobbying is expected on both.

Sen. Charles H. Jones, R-Butler, who co-sponsored the bus bill in the Senate along with Sen. Frazier Reams, D-Lucas, pressed the belief the Senate will pass it. "Senate approval should be by a substantial margin," Jones said.

Jones and Reams both are Methodists.

The Senate bill differs in one respect from the House version. It would require school boards to reimburse parents for public transportation in cases where school bus service is not provided. The House bill contains no such provision.

Opposition to the sales tax bill will be centered among administration Republicans obligated to help GOP Gov. James A. Rhodes fulfill his "no new taxes" campaign pledge.

Johnson Eyes Soviet Union Visit In 1965

Gets Backing From Both Democratic And GOP Senators

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, newly on record as very hopeful of visiting the Soviet Union this year, has initial backing from many senators — Democrats and Republicans.

Johnson pulled a surprise Wednesday night by hinting that such a journey already is tentatively in the works. And he coupled this with an equally firm expression of hope that the new Soviet leaders will visit the United States in 1965.

Some senators said Johnson's proposed trip might further ease East-West tensions and deserved approval. Some others said it certainly would do no harm.

Johnson, addressing a black tie dinner of the Anti-Defamation League, an arm of the Jewish service organization, B'nai B'rith, was interrupted twice by applause as he voiced the key sentence in his speech:

"I have reason to believe that the Soviet leadership would welcome my visit to their country (applause) — as I would be very glad to do (applause)."

Johnson had begun by saying his Jan. 4 proposal that the Soviet chiefs visit the United States was receiving active, constructive and, he hoped, fruitful attention in Moscow.

"I am very hopeful," he said, "that before the year is out this exchange of visits between us may occur."

Again there was applause, echoed when he concluded: "I believe that such visits would reassure an anxious world that our two nations are each striving toward the goal of peace."

If Johnson realizes his hope of visiting the Soviet Union, he will be the first American president to journey to that country since Franklin D. Roosevelt attended the Yalta Conference, in the Soviet Crimea, shortly before his death in 1945.

Hall Not To Run 4 Democrats, 2 Of GOP Enter City's Mayor Race

Both Parties In Contests In 3 Wards

Municipal Judge, Treasurer Have No Foes In Primary

Nine last-minute East Liverpool candidates filed with the County Election Board for the municipal primaries May 4 before the deadline Wednesday at 4 p.m., including two new aspirants who raised to four the field seeking the Democratic nomination for mayor.

The new mayoralty contenders are Robert Owen, 775 Ohio Ave., safety-service director in 1961-63 and now an auto dealer, and Albert R. Sayre, 1719 Cleveland Ave., a crane operator at the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co. and a well-known Tri-State District prizefighter a generation ago.

They will run against the other two Democratic aspirants who filed earlier — Robert L. Curran of Highland Colony, a salesman for Mike Turk, Inc., and Lawrence A. (Larry) Finlay, 709 Sophia St., a potter and former market operator.

As anticipated, Mayor Merrill D. Hall, the Republican incumbent, did not enter for a second term.

Queried today, Hall said: "It's possible that I could not finish a second term and I did not want to start something I could not finish."

The GOP mayoralty field will be comprised of two who filed earlier: Council President George E. Willshaw of Idaho Ave., a district supervisor for the Standard Oil Co., and William T. Kind of Walnut St., a coal dealer and former councilman who also sought the mayor's post in 1963.

Three Republicans and one Democrat entered at the last minute to seek nomination for Fourth Ward councilman.

The GOP spot on the ticket had been blank until the rush of filings started yesterday.

The entrants are: Mrs. Grace Cartwright Leasure, 410 Jefferson St., a housewife and treasurer of the Women's Republican Club; Robert G. Duncan, 575 Williams Ave., an employee of the Crucible inspection department who formerly held the post for two terms, and Harold R. Maylone, 1073 Dresden Ave., a television serviceman at the Smith & Phillips Co.

The last-minute Democratic entrant for Fourth Ward councilman is Robert B. Laughlin.

Mayor Has Opposition

8 Contests In Wellsville

Four races on each ticket highlight Wellsville's primary election as the result of last-minute filings Wednesday.

Interest on the Democratic ticket centers on the mayoralty race with incumbent Mayor William Daugherty opposed by Mrs. Mary Rahter, Council president.

The Republican ballot features a race for solicitor, with incumbent William Bush opposed by Atty. Delmar T. O'Hara.

SIX NEW candidates filed their petitions at the Columbiana County Board of Elections before the deadline yesterday afternoon.

They were Andrew J. Lynn, 945 Center St., Democrat for Second Ward Council; Isaac Freeman, 1131 Buckeye Ave., Democrat for Council at-large; incumbent Meryle D. (Spee) Kenny, 1029 Commerce St., and John McGarey, 247 Highland Ave., both Republicans, for Council at-large, and Kenneth Carter, 1609 Maple Ave., and James B. (Brad) Phillips, 1727 Lincoln Ave., both Republicans for Fourth Ward Council.

Here is the way the Democratic ballot shapes up:

Mayor Daugherty, resident of 921 Main St., is seeking his third consecutive term. Mrs. Rahter, resident of 711 Main St., and owner of Rahter Wallpaper Store, has served as Council president four terms.

Allen C. Baldwin, 1706 Maple Ave., Democratic party chairman and a former councilman, is unopposed as a candidate for treasurer. The party has no candidate for solicitor.

Six are seeking the three nominations for Council-at-large posts. Candidates are Walter E. Henthorne, 1712 Clark Ave., present Fourth Ward councilman and a Crucible Steel Co. employee; George T. Lawton, 1515 Clark Ave., a Daw Junior High School teacher; John E. Call, 1150 Riverside Ave., a Crucible employee making his first political bid; Carl S. Davis, 531 Buckeye Ave., an employee of Harker China Co. and another political newcomer; Charles D. Tompkins, 611 Broadway, a retired Pennsylvania Railroad engineer, also a newcomer, and Isaac Freeman, 1131 Buckeye Ave., a former political aspirant.

Russell R. Keefer, 337 Highland Ave., a Pennsylvania Railroad employee, and Raymond L. Sirianni, 421 Commerce St., a Crucible employee, are opposed for the party's nomination for the First Ward representative.

Both are making a second bid for the nomination.

IN THE SECOND Ward race, Robert T. Mason, 613 Washington St., a potter, and Andrew J. Lynn, 945 Center St., a Crucible crane operator, are pitted against each other. Mason is making a second attempt for the nomination while Lynn is a political newcomer.

Councilman Cuzzio S. Lombardozzi, 1223 Clover St., is unopposed in the Third Ward. He also is assured of re-election as the Republicans have no candidate for the post.

Mrs. Virginia Heaton, 2025 Clark Ave., secretary-treasurer of the Women's Democrat Club, is unopposed in a bid for the Fourth Ward post.

The Republican slate is headed by William S. Robinson, 1753 Crawford Ave., who is unopposed in his bid as a mayor.

4 Democrats, 2 Republicans In Mayor Bids

306 W. 6th St., a decorating kilnman at the Homer Laughlin China Co. who held the same post in 1961-62. He will run against the incumbent, William E. Davis, 713 Edwards Ave., an employee of the hot strip mill at Crucible who is seeking a second term.

Two new aspirants also entered for Republican nomination for three Council-at-large seats, boosting the field to four.

They are: Paul H. Zehnder, 1323 Fairmont St., WOHI news director and a member of the City Board, and Joseph W. Chetwynd, 1321 St. Clair Ave., an estimator at the Patterson Industries plant who also ran for a Council seat in 1963.

Earlier Entries Listed
Earlier entrants for the GOP at-large race were Councilman Robert W. Sample, 606 McKinnon Ave., a Crucible employee who is seeking his fourth consecutive term, and John H. Parsons of Curry St., vice president of the Parsons Coal Co., Inc., and chairman of the City Park Commission.

Also entering late yesterday afternoon was Atty. John B. McDonald, 434 Thompson Ave., an unopposed Republican candidate for city solicitor. McDonald, a practicing attorney here for 23 years, served as solicitor from 1947 through 1950.

Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper of North St., bidding for an eighth term as the Democratic candidate, also is unopposed.

Democrats have a seven-man field for the three Council-at-large nominations. But there were no last-minute entrants.

2 Incumbents Run

The field is comprised of the two incumbents, Donald S. Hancock, 1450 Pennsylvania Ave., a Crucible employee seeking a third term, and Norman R. Bucher, 818 Bradshaw Ave., also a Crucible worker, bidding for a second full term, plus Frank P. Duffy, 1623 Holliday St., a potter and former member-at-large who was his party's nominee for mayor in 1963; James A. Moore, 1978 Lisbon St., a Crucible electrician and diner operator who ran for mayor four years ago; Earl Spencer, 806 Sophia St., a Crucible finishing mill worker who once ran for Second Ward councilman; Edward B. Massey, 218 W. 4th St., a Crucible coke plant worker who was Fourth Ward councilman in 1962-63, and John F. Kelly, 1029 Vine St., who was Second Ward councilman in 1960-61.

The two-way race for the Democratic nomination for Council president was left unchanged as the deadline passed yesterday.

Both entered earlier, the candidates are: Arch H. Smith, 925 McKinnon Ave., who sought the same job unsuccessfully in 1963, and Rudolph E. Halpate, 414 Walnut St., secretary of the Owls Club.

Candidate Unopposed

The GOP Council president candidate is unopposed. He is Ernest A. Lowe, 410 Wedgewood Ave., vice president of the Mason Color & Chemical Works, Inc.

In the other three Ward Council posts to be filled, both parties face races with one exception—the GOP nomination in the First Ward.

Three are running against Floyd L. Murray, 1709 Etruria St., the Democratic incumbent in the First Ward who is seeking a third term. They are William C. Rea, 1259 Erie St., a Patterson Industries expeditor and a member of the City Planning Commission; Thomas J. Kidder, 1430 Etruria St., a machine shop employee at Crucible making his first political bid, and Clifford J. Cooper, 840 St. George St., a Chester service station employee who formerly served in the First Ward and later sought his party's nomination for mayor.

The unopposed GOP First Ward candidate, who filed earlier, is Richard W. Carter, 1180 Erie St., an employee of the Globe Brick Co. and president of United Brick & Clay Workers Local 647.

Seeks Second Term

Councilman James F. Cunningham, 149 Reynolds St., a Crucible employee, is bidding for a second term in the Second Ward on the Democratic ticket, opposed by Edward Nelson, 215 Thompson Ave., an employee of the Outdoor Army Store and city Civil Defense director.

The GOP Second Ward contenders are Mrs. Donna Richards Wilson, 1029 Bradshaw Ave., mother of two and a former teacher, and Dennis H. Smith, 422 College St., deputy CD director and a 14-year employee at Crucible.

Third Ward Councilman Donald E. Smith of Woodbine Ave., asking a third term on the Democratic ticket, has three opponents: Paul Grimes, 130 1/2 W. 4th St., a caster at the Harker China Co.; Albert J. Garvey of Canton St., a Crucible plant protection employee, and Frank D. Bennett, also of Canton St., an ex-city worker and a Crucible employee.

Republican candidates for the Third Ward seat are: S. James Welch of St. John St., an employee of the American Vitriol Products Co. who held the post in 1962-63; Paul C. Shingler, 359 Garfield St., an insurance agent, and James E. Lowe, 806 Lincoln Ave., and employee of the Mackintosh-Hemphill Division of the E. W. Bliss Co. in Midland who sought the same post in 1956.

2 Lack Opposition

Two incumbents were left unopposed and with no candidate entered against them by the other party—assuring re-election and virtually making a certainty of re-election in November.

They are Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff of Midway Ln., a Democrat asking a second six-year term, and Treasurer Bert A. Dawson of Lisbon St., Republican, dean of boys at the high school, asking his 12th term.

Democrats entered no candidate for treasurer and no Republican aspirant filed for judge. Countywide, the Election Board listed 199 candidates—100 Republicans, 97 Democrats and two Independents. The Independents were required to meet yesterday's filing deadline, but their names will not appear on the primary ballot in May. They will be listed for the offices in the general election in November.

Board Sets Meeting

The Election Board will meet Monday at 3 p. m. to pass upon the legality of all petitions filed before the deadline and to award a contract for furnishing ballots and poll books for the election.

Here are brief biographies on the new East Liverpool candidates:

Owen served as director under former Mayor Bert H. Goodballet in 1961-63. He was named after the death of Lee Copenhaver. Owen was First Ward councilman in 1955-56.

In the 1962 election, he was named Council president, but served only briefly and then returned to his duty as director. A partner in Bob and Dick's Auto Sales on Pennsylvania Ave., Owen also operated an East End hardware for 18 years.

Owen is a member of Masonic Lodge 681, American Legion Post 374, the Elks Lodge and the East Liverpool Democratic Club. He is a trustee of the Second Presbyterian Church. He served in the infantry during World War II.

Sayre sought a Council-at-large seat four years ago. A member of VFW Post 66, he was captain of its former drill team. Married and an Air Force veteran of World War II, he is active in bowling circles.

First Bid For Office

Mrs. Leasure, wife of Sheridan Leasure, is a member of the Betsy Ross Eastern Star Chapter and Rebekah Lodge, both of Salineville, and also belongs to the First Methodist Church. She is making her first bid for political office.

Duncan, employed 14 years in the inspection department at Crucible, is a member of Riddle Masonic Lodge 315, the Elks Lodge and Steelworkers Local 1212. He attends the Calvary Methodist Church. Mr. and Mrs. Duncan have two sons, 2nd Lt. James Duncan, in the Army at Ft. Campbell, Ky., and Jerry, attending school in Chicago.

Chetwynd, an Army veteran of World War II, is married and the father of two daughters. He is a member of the Emmanuel Presbyterian Church, the Elks Lodge, American Legion Post 374 and VFW Post 66.

Married and the father of two sons, Maylone is a deacon and Sunday School teacher at the First Baptist Church. Active in Little League baseball, he is a member of the Triangle Radio Club. He is an Army veteran of World War II.

Laughlin has been employed 20 years at Laughlin's and is a member of IBOP Local 124. Laughlin served in the Army Medical Corps in World War II. He is a member of DAV Chapter 47 and St. Aloysius Catholic Church.

McDonald is associated in the law firm of Brookes, Lynch & McDonald. A Naval officer in World War II, he is a member of American Legion Post 4, St. Stephen's Episcopal Church and the Elks Lodge.

An Army veteran, Zehnder is married and has three sons. A member of American Legion Post 374, he has served four years on the Board of Trustees of the Junior Chamber of Commerce. In 1960, he received the Jaycee's Patrick J. O'Farrell Award as the outstanding committee chairman of the year. He formerly served five years as secretary of the City Planning Commission and for two years was a member of the Recreation Council.

Girl Driver Charged

In Salineville Mishap

SALINEVILLE — A girl suffered a bruised knee when the car she was driving collided with another auto at the intersection of Jefferson St. and W. Lincoln St. Wednesday afternoon, Police Chief Earl Laney reported.

Phyllis Ann Knight, 17, of Grandview Heights failed to halt for a stop sign and the auto — owned by Alice Lewis of Carrollton — collided with a car operated by Darrel Howell, 19, of Mechanicstown.

The girl was cited to Traffic Court at Lisbon. There was damage to the right side of the Howell auto and the front of the other, Chief Laney said.

The federal government owns 769,900,000 acres of land in the 50 states, or more than one out of every three acres.

De Gaulle Proposes 5-Power Conference

PARIS (AP) — President Charles de Gaulle today proposed a five-power conference, including Communist China, to examine and perhaps revise the United Nations charter.

He also called for a new world monetary system founded on something more than the dollar and pound sterling.

The French president told his semiannual news conference France is making this proposal to bring the U.N. charter up to date.

He said such a conference should be held in Geneva. He mentioned the Soviet Union, Britain, France, the United States and China as participants.

Camp Fire Girl Guardians Given Course Certificates

Twenty-one certificates were presented to Camp Fire Girl Guardians, who completed all or part of the basic group leadership training course, at a candlelight ceremonial Tuesday night at the Potters Savings & Loan Co. annex.

Recipients were Mrs. Rose Keuper, Mrs. Mary Meeks, Mrs. Thelma Kerr, Mrs. Alice Diddle, Mrs. Florence Gongaware, Mrs. Mary Margaret Welker, Mrs. Almeda Smith, Mrs. Peg Eddy, Mrs. Dorothy Hales, Mrs. Beryl Payne, Mrs. Elsie Pethel, Mrs. Kay Walters, Mrs. Mary Davis, Mrs. Mary Musuraca, Mrs. Thelma McEldowney, Mrs. Sally Porter, Mrs. Mary Stroble, Mrs. Barbara Talbott, Mrs. Beverly Gray, Mrs. Pat Huddleston and Mrs. Alice Malone.

Mrs. Larry Walton, training chairman of the East Liverpool Area of Camp Fire Girls Council was in charge of the event. An explanation of the program of ceremonies was given by Mrs. Kerr. Mrs. Walton sounded the Whoelo Call, following which the procession was played by Mrs. Welker.

Mrs. Keuper, Mrs. Eddy and Mrs. Smith lighted the Whoelo candles and Mrs. Meeks led the group in the handsign of the fire. The Camp Fire Prayer was led by Mrs. Robert Bernstorf and Mrs. Walton.

The five-week course included the basic beliefs and philosophy of the Camp Fire program, record keeping, program development, symbolism, songs and games and national and local policies.

The training staff was comprised of Mrs. Walton, Mrs. Harriet Faulk, Mrs. Laura Chadwick, Mrs. Bernstorf and Mrs. Joseph Prager.

Mrs. Walton announced that a course in first aid will be given in March for all leaders and other interested adult workers, and a group camping course in April.

The National Camp Fire Girls staff advised the group that Miss Harriet Dively, director of Region IX, will conduct a training session March 10 at Salem.

Tax Appeals Lacking At Session In Hancock

The Hancock County Board of Review and Equalization said no appeals of tax assessments were made by Grant District residents at its final meeting on district complaints Wednesday night at the Courthouse in New Cumberland.

The board will hear appeals from Clay District residents tonight, Friday and Monday from 6:30 to 9 p. m.

The Site Should Be Right

For some years the people of East Liverpool have been increasingly aware of the need for a new post office.

Outmoded and cramped facilities of the present structure, built in 1908, and the necessity for operating a modern and more economical mail handling system has been apparent to all.

The people of East Liverpool want a new post office, as soon as it is feasibly possible.

BUT THE COMMUNITY wants a structure which is part of the overall development program, in a location which enables the postal authorities to meet their service duties and which best fits into the needs of the city and its residents.

Ample and easy approach to the building for cars of the patrons and the trucks of the delivery system is vital.

An attractive location which adds to the civic appearance of the community and helps set off the post office itself is another need.

Accessibility to downtown business and residential areas with a minimum of parking and traffic congestion is a further requirement.

THE W. 7TH ST. SITE chosen by the U. S. Post Office Department meets none of these location needs in the opinion of most knowledgeable civic leaders. It is less desirable by far than some of the other locations which have been studied by the Post Office Department and local leaders.

There can be no doubt that the lack of available and reasonably priced property in the city poses a serious handicap to the selecting of a site which would be ideal. But there are at least two other tracts which could be utilized, and the Post Office Department should permit every opportunity to determine if one of these can be obtained.

THE PEOPLE of East Liverpool do not want to see "their" post office hidden on a secondary street, surrounded by aged homes and difficult to reach on foot or by auto, creating another traffic problem.

In 1961 a site on W. 7th St. and Jackson St., costing considerably less than the present one, was turned down by the Postal Department as not suitable. The current W. 7th St. site, farther away from the main part of the downtown area and now estimated to cost $143,000, appears no more desirable four years later.

With East Liverpool in the midst of a conscientious planning program and working hard toward industrial and business development, a serious setback could result from failure to locate the new post office in the proper perspective of the city's progress.

The Review joins with other community leaders in urging a reconsideration of the site of the new facility. We can think of no recent action of significance in East Liverpool to which the ancient warning "Haste Makes Waste" more applies.

Towers Of Hidden Strength

Ohio legislators know something about this proposal to move up the minimum auto license age from 16 to 18 that they can't very well talk about in public.

A sigh of relief would be heaved in tens of thousands of Ohio households if fathers and mothers could postpone the dreaded day when their sons and daughters finally are old enough to go out on the highway on their own.

Then come the stresses and strains over use of the family car, ownership of their own cars, driving too fast, taking chances with other teen-ager drivers, getting into trouble away from home by virtue of too-easy mobility.

Then come gray hairs for Mom and Dad, haggard faces, thinning pocketbooks, punitive insurance premiums and nagging repair bills. There is a parents' side to the teen-age driver problem, too.

Most 16-year-olds and upward are jimmied drivers. Their reflexes are instantaneous. They are alert, conscientious and eager to learn—oh so eager! Even the blameless ones drive their parents to distraction with their eager interest in automotive transportation.

The reckless teen-agers drive their parents to distraction and the verge of bankruptcy. Anything that would hold them off, cool them down, keep them at bay until their judgment improved or they were paying their own bills would add years to the life span of parents and guardians.

Even a law requiring periodic safety inspections would help, if it grounded some of the flying junkies piloted hither and yon at excessive speed and minimum caution by teen-age drivers who have yet to learn the lethal potential of this multi-horsepowered plaything.

If the boys and girls of Ohio wonder where the steam is coming from behind the proposal to boost the minimum driver license age to 18 in all but special hardship cases, they should ask Mom and Dad. They know.

Sounds Like A Fine Idea

Even if it's only being talked about for bargaining purposes, international ownership of a sea-level canal across Central America sounds like a fine idea.

If Panama, or any other Central American country, could line up enough international money to do such a thing, one of the meanest problems that has plagued the United States about the Panama Canal would be erased.

That is the problem of local sovereignty. The United States had to bulldoze a diplomatic "right-of-way" for the Panama Canal before it could start to build the canal. Ever since, it has had to cope with the ill will and jealousy of a native population that never has been as grateful for U.S. largesse as it was supposed to be.

If the government of Panama had its own sea-level canal, financed internationally, the United States would have just as free access to the new waterway as it has to its own present Panama Canal. That would be a requisite of international financing. All countries would have a right to use the canal.

But the United States would have no capital investment, in the ordinary sense. It would have no overhead, no diplomatic problems, no black eye in Latin America, no availability to international blackmailers and one less overseas garrison. Whenever local sentiment reached the boiling point, it could boil over against itself, at the expense of the local treasury.

It sounds like a fine idea. The United States needs another canal zone and another set of outstretched hands in Central America like it needs another South Viet Nam in Asia.

Barbarians

I wish everybody had seen the CBS documentary on Stonehenge.

I wish everybody could see the spooky monument to antiquity on the Salisbury Plain in England.

It would make this easier to say.

Otherwise, it is necessary to explain that Gerald Hawkins, astronomer at the Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory in Connecticut and chairman of Boston University's department of astronomy, has proved that Stonehenge could have been a sophisticated astronomical observatory.

Dr. Hawkins does not say it was; only that the position of the stones suggests it could have been.

The barrier to belief is the great antiquity of Stonehenge—at least 4,000 years old.

The same conceit that makes men sure they are unique in the whole universe makes men doubt that anything intelligent was going on in England 4,000 years ago. There are no records, the scholars explain, therefore nothing happened. The people presumably scrambling about in the locality of Stonehenge were still walking on their fists.

They couldn't have conceived of a sophisticated astronomical observatory, much less built one to precise specifications. They were, ugh, barbarians, say the scholars.

BARBARIANS are people who do not shave before going to work, fill divorce courts, drop nuclear bombs, run mass slaughter camps, or peddle goof balls to Kollege Kids.

But does it follow that barbarians could not have developed as much astronomical savvy as the flowers of civilization waiting their perfume among us?

Is it reasonable to believe everything which reflects credit on human intelligence is peculiar to the span of years covered by written history?

Isn't it possible that other civilizations may have grown up, withered down and died in times so ancient they can be indicated only by digital computation — 4,000, or 40,000, or 400,000 or 4,000,000, or 40,000,000?

STONEHENGE survives because it was made of massive blocks of stone. Otherwise, it would have disappeared like everything else—like everything that now survives which we are pleased to call "civilization."

Take a look around. What would be left in 4,000 years? Nothing, except the rubble of whatever stones had survived floods, earthquakes, topographical upheavals that changed continents into oceans and vice versa.

Scholars would scratch around in the remnants and be astonished at every scrap of evidence indicating intelligence above the level of beasts.

They might come across an electronic computer in an underground vault and figure out after a long hassle it was some kind of a crude device to compute interspatial mileage. "Naw," the skeptics would scoff, "those creeps couldn't have figured out anything that sophisticated. They were still killing one another. They were barbarians!"

This 'n That

The highest price ever paid for an orchid was recorded in London in 1906 when a man by the name of H.F.C. Sander shelled out 1,155 pounds (now $3,234) for an "Odontoglossum crispum pittianum."

Vermont was the first U.S. state to forbid slavery and the first to adopt universal manhood suffrage (1777).

Any Good Emergencies Coming Up?

Days Of John L. Lewis Recalled

By Victor Riesel

It went virtually unnoticed, but the first visitor President Johnson had last Friday after spending the morning in bed was George Meany, who now speaks for more unionists than any other labor leader in the world.

Mr. Meany found the President sitting in pajamas and robe in the upstairs living quarters at the White House. The office had been drafted, Mr. Johnson said, and since they both had colds they could talk more comfortably in the "apartment."

Setting the appointment for that moment — 12:30 p.m. — reflected the President's respect for Mr. Meany and the AFL-CIO.

The labor chief was under pressure. He had just completed some personal business in New York and had to catch a train for Bal Harbour, Fla., where the nation's union leaders are beginning a series of high command sessions which will last until March.

MR. MEANY had been eager to talk with Mr. Johnson about what the labor movement could expect from the administration on several special points, such as wider manpower training and an expanded billion dollar Appalachia bill. Mr. Johnson obliged and delayed a luncheon appointment with Clark Clifford, chairman of the Foreign Intelligence Advisory Board.

Sometime later Mr. Meany took a train south. There are few men for whom Mr. Johnson would have cut into that cold-ridden, cough-racked day. This is recognition of the fact that George Meany, the hard driving but unflashy unionist, has far outdistanced his more flamboyant colleagues and is the one man through whom the President of the United States does his labor business.

Never has any one man enjoyed such unique influence with a president. Franklin Roosevelt, Harry Truman and John Kennedy dealt with all comers who had something to offer or a crisis to overcome.

NOT TOO FAR from where Mr. Johnson and Mr. Meany commiserated over each others' viruses last Friday noon, there sat a labor leader who once had had easy entry into a president's bedroom. But now he sits alone in solitary grandeur awaiting his 85th birthday on Feb. 12 — which to the coal-diggers of old is as much John L. Lewis day as it is Lincoln's birthday.

That man who sits alone these days, that man to whose door there rarely comes a unionist from outside the Mine Workers, that man whose every tread 25 years ago was followed by scores of newsmen and millions of workers, that man is John Llewellyn Lewis, president emeritus of the United Mine Workers of America.

It was he who launched the first offensives from which sprang the million-member Auto and Steel Unions so casually taken for granted these space-age days.

THOSE OFFENSIVES gave him massive personal power and his jet black mane and bushy eyebrows became the symbols of dire threats to capitalists of American industry.

Never was he more powerful than on the eve of his 57th birthday. Just 28 years ago, not quite to the day, he had been against General Motors.

The GM stoppages had begun in Atlanta, during November of 1936. Swiftly they had spread through Michigan. John Lewis after tough bargaining for months, was hit by a virus.

He was in bed in his Detroit Hotel Statler suite on the night of Feb. 11, 1937, when the contract was signed under the watchful eye of his counsel, Lee Pressman. The old CIO had won. GM had signed its first mass contract.

A FEW MINUTES later, GM general counsel John Thomas Smith strode into Lewis' bedroom. The corporation lawyer had been as tough as Lewis right down the line. But now he held out his hand and said:

"I want you to know that my views are no different than in the past. You can consider me an implacable enemy. But I have no greater admiration for any other man than I have for you. Happy birthday, Mr. Lewis."

The labor chief extended his feverish hand.

"Sir, my views have not changed toward business," he said, "and insofar as our future relations are concerned I know I will be able to get only that which I will be able to take away from you."

They shook hands and John Lewis was on his way to the leadership of millions in the mass-production industries. But then he broke with Franklin Roosevelt and labor abandoned Lewis. He and George Meany battled in public a decade later. They never have forgiven each other.

And John Llewellyn Lewis, "Old King Coal," awaits his 85th birthday far from the movements he once led.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Thursday, Feb. 4, the 35th day of 1965. There are 330 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1789, presidential electors cast all 69 of their votes for George Washington.

On this date in 1783, hostilities ended between the United States and England.

In 1861, the Southern Confederacy was formed at Montgomery, Ala.

In 1919, Connecticut declined to ratify the Prohibition Amendment.

In 1944, Adm. Chester Nimitz became military governor of the Marshall Islands.

Ten years ago—Pakistan announced its intention of becoming a republic associated with the British Commonwealth.

Five years ago—Leaders of the Warsaw Pact Communist nations said they were ready to sign separate peace treaties with West Germany unless the West agreed to make Berlin a free city.

One year ago—Pope Paul VI started his tour of the Holy Land in Jordan and Jerusalem.

Resoluteness Needed

By David Lawrence

U.S. Should Let Moscow Know The Facts

A "sleeper" crisis is developing in world affairs. The fact that it is evolving gradually and without threatening words being spoken does not make it any less serious.

The Soviet Union has announced that it is sending Premier Kosygin and an official delegation to North Viet Nam. Military as well as economic assistance will be furnished by the Soviets to the very government which, in violation of international agreements, has been carrying on a war against South Viet Nam.

Since military aid and economic assistance has been given by the United States to the South Viet Nam government, at its request, the Soviet action means a direct intervention in Southeast Asia by Russia in an open challenge to the policies of the American government.

Wishful thinkers are saying that the Soviets are peacefully inclined and are only helping North Viet Nam so as not to let Red China get all the credit in the Communist world.

Coincidentally, the Moscow government expressed itself in favor of further interchanges of visits between high officials of this country and the Soviet Union and suggested an exchange of television programs. This doubtless was intended as a friendly gesture to offset any feeling in the United States of dismay over the Soviet move in Viet Nam.

BUT THE DOUBLE standard is all too evident, and it's possible that Moscow decided to intervene in Viet Nam largely because of a mistaken belief that President Johnson is going "isolationist" and is too preoccupied with domestic affairs to want to take risks overseas.

Indeed, some of the men closest to the Johnson administration have been so consistently preaching isolationist doctrines of late that it is quite natural, though tragically mistaken, for the Soviets to assume that President Johnson is a pussyfoot or an appeaser.

Unfortunately it may require a confrontation such as the late President Kennedy risked during the Cuban missile crisis in order to convince the Moscow government that the United States isn't being taken in by the tactics of the Soviets.

Many newspapers have been publishing articles recently giving the impression that things have quieted down in the world and that there need be less anxiety on the international scene.

THE WASHINGTON POST, reflecting the change in trend

now, said editorially on Tuesday:

"The Russian decision to send Premier Kosygin and a strong government and party delegation to North Viet Nam in the near future is the boldest and most significant foreign policy move yet taken by the new Kremlin leadership. While incurable optimists will derive comfort from the fact the move is designed to replace the Chinese with Soviet influence in Hanoi (North Viet Nam), this would seem to be a superficial interpretation of its true significance.

"Kosygin's delegation will include both the minister of aviation and the deputy chairman of the state committee for foreign economic relations. The latter is the man who had previously signed Soviet military assistance agreements with India and Indonesia.

"One can conclude, therefore, that Moscow will now not only support Hanoi verbally, as it has increasingly done in recent months, but also give needed military aid to Hanoi in an effort to win its favor."

The Post goes on to say that "the Russians must be fairly confident that the United States will not enlarge the war by attacking North Viet Nam, particularly if the Soviet Union now comes out firmly on Hanoi's side."

It's pointed out, moreover, that the Soviets recently sent arms by airlift to the Congo rebels by way of Algeria and Egypt.

So the alignment of Russia as a defiant adversary of the United States now in Southeast Asia, as well as in Africa, is an ominous augury of trouble in the world.

THE SOVIETS surely must have misconstrued the mandate of the last presidential election and evidently believe that Sen. Goldwater's views on firmness and resoluteness in foreign policy were repudiated by the American people.

The German imperialists made the same fallacious interpretation of American policy in 1917 just after the 1916 presidential election was won on the peace issue. Only our entry into World War I demolished that theory. Hitler similarly misconstrued Britain's appeasement in 1938 as a determination not to fight and World War II ensued in 1939.

It's to be hoped that President Johnson now will make it so clear to Moscow what the consequences of its ill-advised policies may be that there will be no further meddling by the Soviets in the Viet Nam situation. For resoluteness at the opportune moment can save the world from a "limited war" of dangerous proportions. It is time to call a halt to the preachments of isolationism which have recently emerged on the American scene.

Close To The Chest

By James Marlow

President Johnson plays the cards close to his chest, at home and abroad, but thinks he has broad public approvals—consensus, he calls it—for what he has in mind for America.

After his election last November there was speculation he would go easy, be sparing in his programs, and offer only watered-down ones to avoid conflict even though his victory had been overwhelming.

The reason given for this speculation: Johnson remembers how President Franklin D. Roosevelt, despite his vast victory in 1936, was hobbled for years by an angry Congress after he tried to reorganize the Supreme Court.

But when Johnson delivered his State of the Union message Jan. 4 he made about 50 proposals and followed up with two that had been red-hot, unresolved issues for years: Federal aid to education, including parochial schools, and medical care for the aged financed through Social Security.

And Wednesday night, to show he is willing to confront opposition, he said that between Jan. 4 and the end of this will he will have sent Congress sixteen messages facing up to conflicts, to controversies and "to the needs for change in our society."

Strangely, this year there was relatively little heat over the education and medical care programs and, stranger, both now seem to have a good chance of going through. How does this happen?

This seems the best answer: Johnson, an expert politician, wants results and not conflicts. Instead of ducking the conflict, he cools off both sides before making his programs public.

He would probably call the nonviolent reaction to the medical care and education programs, just to use two examples, a reflection of what he calls the "consensus" of American thinking.

He worked that word "consensus" overtime in the campaign but, because he hasn't been holding news conferences, the public hasn't been hearing it from him. It probably will from now on. He used "consensus" 13 times Wednesday night.

What does he mean by it? He seems to use it interchangeably with "mandate."

The dictionary meaning of "mandate" is "instruction by a constituency" and "consensus" means an "agreement in matters of opinion."

Very early in the morning after election day last November Johnson revealed he considered his great victory a "mandate" to carry out his ideas.

He told a waiting crowd in Texas: "I doubt that there has ever been so many people saying so many things alike on decision day. It is a mandate for unity."

He has been preaching unity ever since and Wednesday night repeated the Texas talk but this way: "The unity of our people—and the consensus of their will—must be the instrument we put to use to strengthen our society. We are not avoiding controversy to prolong the political consensus."

In short, Johnson interprets the election as a go-ahead for the programs he thinks the voters were telling him they wanted.

House Unit Aims Tax Write Off On Pollution Curbs

By WILLIAMS S. VANCE
Review Staff Correspondent

COLUMBUS, Ohio — The House Taxation Committee hopes to learn next week how much it would cost Ohio to let industries write off all taxes on water pollution control equipment.

A bill offering far-reaching tax exemptions as an inducement to pollution control had its first hearing before the committee Wednesday.

But while witnesses extolled the bill as an effective way to encourage a cleanup of Ohio waterways, some statehouse veterans who have come to grips with it before are calling it a tax grab which would be unlikely to have much effect on pollution.

The bill would let industries claim a full exemption from real estate, personal property and franchise taxes on anti-pollution equipment already installed. In addition, new equipment would be exempted from the sales tax.

Industries which failed to use the equipment for pollution control would be assessed back taxes at the maximum penalty.

Rep. Chalmers Wylie, R-Franklin, told the committee he "would never admit" the bill would result in a tax loss.

Wylie has tried twice previously to win exemptions for water pollution control. Two years ago the House passed his bill for tax breaks for air and water pollution control devices but the Senate restricted it to air pollution.

He said he has no figures to show how the air pollution control bill has worked out. But state tax department records show applications for exemptions have been received for equipment with an original value of $110 million.

However, of more than 700 applications since 1963, only about 25 have been for new equipment.

This has led critics of the bill to contend exemptions on water pollution control equipment would be sought primarily for facilities already in operation.

John Kinney, an Ann Arbor, Mich., engineering consultant, told the committee small river area companies would benefit most from this bill.

He also said tax benefits would extend beyond industrial plants, even applying to bulldozers and other machinery used by strip mine operators in back-filling to prevent stream pollution.

Robert D. Filbert Jr. of Battelle Memorial Institute here said Philadelphia spent $418 million to clean up 23 streams.

"My feeling is that in 10 years whatever tax loss is incurred would be offset by the benefits," he said.

George Eagle, chief of Ohio health department's sanitary engineering division, said the bill "raises a question of whether it's primarily for water pollution control or other purposes."

He said 1,000 industries dump waste into Ohio streams, although only about 600 have been issued permits. He estimated pollution control investments now total near $500 million.

New facilities, he said, probably would amount to nearly $10 million a year. He admitted the figure may be conservative because industries are reluctant to disclose their investments.

Committee Chairman Walter White, R-Allen, asked Tax Commissioner Gerald Donahue to supply the committee with figures next Wednesday to estimate how much tax revenue would be lost if the bill became law.

GOP Group Hits Gosney's Road Charge

The East Liverpool Area Men's Republican Club has taken offense to the published remarks that the administration of Gov. James Rhodes has not advanced highway construction in the county in the two years it has been in office.

The club termed the statement of Don R. Gosney of Columbiana, county Democratic chairman "definitely untrue" at its meeting Wednesday night at the Potters Savings and Loan Co. annex.

County Commissioner James Boyd discussed several other events under way in the county and Councilman Robert W. Sample Jr. related the handling of the city income tax.

A general discussion on city affairs was held following a talk by Mayor Merrill D. Hall.

Various candidates for municipal offices were introduced.

Plans were discussed for a combined meeting of the men's and women's organizations in April.

It was announced that 50 members have been enrolled so far this year.

Forty attended the meeting, with Robert Knowles, vice president, presiding. Prayer was offered by Sheridan Leasure, chaplain, and the pledge of allegiance was led by David Sakol.

The next meeting will be March 3 at the annex.

5th In Forum Series Will Be Held Friday

Paul Zaperach, director of the interdenominational Columbiana County Youth for Christ organization, will discuss methods of assisting young people at the meeting of the Lions Club Friday afternoon at the Travelers Hotel.

It will be the fifth in a series of six forums and will be directed at how to prevent youths from getting into trouble. The final forum will be concerned with aiding youths after they are in trouble.

The first four meetings were a general discussion of juvenile problems.

Bids Studied At Palestine

EAST PALESTINE — A low bid of $15,063 was submitted by an Elyria concern for the city's proposed new business area street lighting project to the Board of Control Wednesday.

The Atlas Electrical Construction Co. of Elyria was one of seven firms which entered offers for the "White Way" project involving 37 new poles and 47 mercury vapor lamps.

The Gustav Hirsch Co. of Columbus submitted a bid of $15,475 for the project, which includes providing foundations, supplying the poles and lights and installation.

Several firms also bid on separate parts of the work.

Spaite & Son Co. of East Palestine was low bidder on the foundation work with an offer of $1,946. J. G. Madden & Son Co. of East Palestine bid $2,278.

The Graybar Electric Co. of Youngstown was low on supplying the poles and lights with a bid of $7,362.

The original estimate of the cost of the project was $18,000, Mayor Robert Harding said. The board has taken the bids under study.

7 Area Residents Given Treatment After Accidents

A city woman hurt in a fall and a child burned on the leg when his pajamas ignited were among seven area residents treated at City Hospital Wednesday.

Mrs. Clara Wilson of 709 Bradshaw Ave. was treated last night for an injury to the right arm after she fell while walking.

Joseph Curran, 3, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Curran of 189 Vernia St., received second- and third-degree burns on the right leg when his pajamas caught fire in the kitchen at home while he was playing with a match late yesterday morning. His father quelled the blaze.

Ricky Wolfe, 6, son of Donald Wolfe of 1205 Jennings Ave., was treated last night for a cut on the left eye after he fell against a stand at home.

Richard Brown, 7, son of Richard Brown of Grandview near Chester, suffered a laceration of the left knee when he tripped onto a piece of wire.

In a fall onto a concrete floor at school, Ronald Campbell, 7, son of Paul Campbell of near Wellsville received a cut of the forehead.

Phillip Starkey, 20, of 1220 St. George St., an employee of the American Vitified Products Co., suffered a wrist injury when he slipped while pulling a buggy yesterday morning.

Adam J. Gibas, 53, of 518 Grant St., Newell, received fractured tips of two fingers when bricks fell on his hand while he was at work at the Globe Brick Co.

Skids Blamed In 2 Crashes; None Injured

Skids on icy pavement were blamed for two of the four crashes that marred East Liverpool traffic Wednesday and early today, police said. No one was injured.

A collision at 4:39 this morning on W. 8th St. about 100 feet west of Lisbon St. damaged a 1960 two-door sedan driven by Dohrman J. Thrasher, 24, of 1700 Nevada St., Wellsville, and a 1963 model truck operated by James G. Knight, 44, of Canton, officers said.

Thrasher said he was driving east on W. 8th when he saw traffic halted in the right lane, so he pulled into the left lane and slowed. Then, he said, his auto was hit from the rear by the truck. Knight said he was unable to halt because of ice and snow on the pavement, officers said. Patrolman J. A. Walsh investigated.

A mishap on St. Clair Ave. 95 feet north of Broadway at 1:25 p. m. Wednesday damaged a 1962 pickup truck of the Chester Lumber Co. operated by Jeddie D. Spencer, 42, of Chester R. D. 1 and a 1959 model four-door sedan driven by George A. Maistros, 39, of 1323 St. Clair Ave., officers said.

Spencer said he had halted to back into a driveway when the tailgate of his truck was hit by Maistros' auto. Maistros said he slid into the rear of the truck before he realized it was stopped. Patrolmen Orin C. Smith and Paul A. Burson Jr. investigated.

An auto was abandoned by its driver after it plowed into the yard of an East End home at 7:47 p. m. Thursday, police said.

The 1962 two-door sedan owned by William L. Chase of Negley R. D. 1 damaged hedges and the lawn at the home of Frank W. Bookman, 1061 Ohio Ave., officers reported.

Chase told police he gave an unknown drinking companion the keys to his car to warm up the motor. The man drove the auto into the yard at the Bookman home and then abandoned it, he said. Patrolman Samuel E. Hayes investigated.

An auto that went out of control was blamed for a crash on Virginia Ave. south of Fire Alley at 11:46 a. m. yesterday, officers said.

A 1958 model station wagon driven by James J. Tyler, 1785 Pennsylvania Ave., hit a parked 1961 model convertible owned by Donald M. Adkins, 447 Virginia Ave., officers said.

Tyler said he was driving north on Virginia Ave. when the car suddenly went out of control, struck the curb and then hit the parked auto. There was damage to the right front area of each car, officers said.

Legion At Wellsville To Play Host Friday

Wellsville American Legion Post 70 will host the Columbiana County Vulture 273 Friday at 8 p. m. at the post home. Al Hays, chef de gare, will be in charge.

All voitures have been reminded of the winter conference of the Grand Voiture of Ohio at the Canton American Legion Post Saturday and Sunday. The conference is for all Cheminot, Chef de Gares and correspondents.

The Cheminot meeting is set for Saturday afternoon, wreck and dance for Saturday night and Chef de Gare and correspondents' conference for Sunday morning.

Newell Post Accepts Boys State Quota Of 2

Newell American Legion Post 114 accepted its quota for Mountaineer Boys State at its meeting Wednesday night at the post home.

The post will send two Oak Glen High School juniors to the session June 6-12 at Jacksons Mills.

Tony LaNeve, adjutant, reported on membership. Service and rehabilitation reports also were received.

Dewayne Staley, commander, presided. The next meeting will be held Feb. 17.

15 Proposals Due For Vote At Primaries

Fifteen proposals have been filed to date with the Election Board for a vote at the primaries May 4, including six that will appear on the ballot in all 165 Columbiana County polling places.

The general voting is scheduled on four proposed amendments to the Ohio constitution, which will be listed on a single ballot, plus two levies entered by county commissioners.

The county propositions are a renewal of a two-tenths mill levy for support of the Retarded Children's School at Elkton and operation of a sheltered workshop, plus a sixty-five hundredths of a mill levy for County Home operations.

Voting in all 165 precincts is highly unusual in an off-year primary. Under normal circumstances, there would be May balloting in a maximum of seven cities and villages naming party slates for November.

Here are the other propositions:

Wellsville: Five year-renewals of a 1.7-mill levy for street lighting and a nine-tenth mill levy for police department salaries.

United Local School District: A $630,000 building bond issue. Lisbon village: Renewal of a 3-mill current expense levy for three years.

Lisbon Village School District: A new 4-mill levy for five years for current operating expenses.

Hanover Township: Five-year renewals of two eighth-tenth mill levies — one for road maintenance and construction and the other for fire protection.

Center Township: Renewal of a forty-hundredths mill levy for five years for fire protection.

Salem School District: A new 4.6-mill levy to increase salaries.

In addition, the Northwest Precinct of Knox Township will vote on a $3,740,000 bond issue filed by the Alliance City School District. The funds would be used for construction of a new high school and other improvements in the school system. The issue affects only the one precinct in Columbiana County.

Walter Gregg New Director For Crucible

4-County Highway Group To Hear Masheter Feb. 18

Walter E. Gregg who once served at the Midland Works, has been elected to the Board of Directors of the Crucible Steel Co. of America at Pittsburgh.

Senior vice president of Crucible Steel, activities reporting to him include production, sales, operating services, international operations, marketing and the Trent Tube Division. He succeeds Lorin L. Ferrall on the Board of Directors, who retired last month upon reaching retirement age.

In 15 years of association with Crucible, Gregg filled management positions in both the parent company and in a former subsidiary, Rem - Cru Titanium, Inc. Beginning as assistant treasurer and manager of services of Rem - Cru in Midland, he moved into operations where he was vice president and assistant general manager.

When Rem - Cru became part of Crucible in 1958, Gregg was named works manager of the Titanium Division. Since then he has served, in succession, as director of technical development, director of technology, vice president - technology and vice president - operations. He was promoted to senior vice president in 1963.

Born in Louisville, Ky., Gregg grew up in Pennsylvania and a Delaware and received a B. A. degree from the University of Delaware in 1936. He belongs to a number of professional associations, including the American Iron and Steel Institute, American Management Association, Association of Iron and Steel Engineers and the Society for the Advancement of Management.

Lisbon Jaycees Cite Henthorne, Lower At Dinner

LISBON — The Junior Chamber of Commerce honored two "Outstanding Citizens of 1964" at its annual Bosses Night dinner Wednesday in the Eagles Home.

Floyd Lower, former Columbiana County extension agent, received the award for senior citizen, while Richard Henthorne received an award as the outstanding citizen under 35.

Henthorne was recognized for his work as an adult volunteer in the Boy Scout movement. Lower is a past president of Ruritan National, and is currently serving without pay as executive director of the Lisbon Area Chamber of Commerce.

He is also chairman of the County Planning Commission and an officer — in the County Forests and Parks Council. Phil Bouckaert of Cincinnati, state Jaycee president, was guest speaker. He was accompanied by James Williams of Alliance, a national Jaycee director, and Vernon Craig of Wooster, assistant state publicity director.

State Highway Director P. E. Masheter will speak at a general meeting of the Lake Erie-Ontario Highway Association Feb. 18 in the ballroom of the Mural Room Restaurant at Youngstown.

Masheter's address will follow a 6:45 dinner of the association, which is comprised of civic leaders and public officials in Columbiana, Mahoning, Trumbull and Ashtabula Counties.

The highway director will explain future construction plans for the four-lane limited access highway, which eventually will connect Ohio River docks at East Liverpool with the Lake Erie port at Ashtabula.

Masheter also will comment on the highway department's construction plans for the four-lane limited access highway, which eventually will connect Ohio River docks at East Liverpool with the Lake Erie port at Ashtabula.

Masheter also will comment of the highway department's construction program in general, particularly as it relates to Eastern and Northeastern Ohio.

Atty. Francis H. Lang of East Liverpool, charter president of the association, will preside. J.

Larceny Trial Nears Jury

LISBON — The larceny trial of two Salem area defendants is expected to go to a Common Pleas Court jury today.

It is the second trial on the same charge for John L. Jarrett, 22, and Arnold Lee Puckett, 20, both of Salem R.D. 4. The first trial Oct. 14 ended in a "hung" jury.

The defendants are charged with larceny of $150 worth of metal objects last March 23 at the Cherry Valley Sand Co. west of Leetonia.

None of the metal objects was taken from the yard but the defendants had picked them up and moved them. Police Chief Allen Gibson of Leetonia and Deputy Sheriff James Gause examined the youths under ultraviolet light and said their clothing and hands glowed with a luminous paste police had placed on the metal several days before.

The state claims movement of the objects constitutes larceny.

Judge Raymond S. Buzzard is presiding as he did for the first trial. On the jury sworn in Wednesday are Gladys Frye, Evelyn Talbott, Maude Flesch, Dorothy S. Shone, Samuel Lockhart and Roberta Shovlin, East Liverpool; William Rosenberger, Wellsville; Mary Roessler and William T. Bailey, Salem; Eileen Dowd, Columbiana, and Edward Weigle and Robert Spear, East Palestine.

Walter Nicholson, Lisbon, is alternate.

14 Firemen Are Honored

Fourteen firemen of the Liverpool Township Volunteer Fire Department received awards in recognition of their completing a 30-hour training program at a dinner meeting Wednesday night at the Travelers Hotel.

Receiving special citations for their outstanding work in the program were Ed Burns, Everett Vernacini and John Borsos.

Robert Lloyd, assistant chief at Wellsville, acted as instructor. Robert Badger, chief of the township department, was toastmaster. He announced that the new tanker truck for the Liverpool Township West station should arrive within two weeks.

Several township officials were present and spoke. Forty-four firemen and their families attended.

$913 Million Rhodes' Goal In 7 Counties

CLEVELAND (AP) — Outlining a plan to spend $913 million in seven counties surrounding Cleveland, Gov. James A. Rhodes has urged passage of state bond issues May 4 so money will be available to carry out the projects.

The plan is spread over five years and is part of a "master plan" for economic development in northeast Ohio, Rhodes said Wednesday in an address to the Regional Planning Commission.

The area discussed by Rhodes includes Cuyahoga, Lorain, Summit, Lake, Medina, Portage and Geauga counties.

Most of the money—$786 million—is earmarked for highways.

Rhodes plugged hardest for passage of State Bond Issue 2—a constitutional amendment proposal to provide $290 million in bonds for industrial development, capital improvements, natural resources and educational facilities. Also included in Bond Issue 2 is a proposal for a 240-mile pipeline from Maumee, Ohio, to Lake Erie.

Issue 1 on the primary ballot proposed constitutional amendments to provide guarantees of loans to college students who are Ohio residents. Issue 3 is a proposal for reapportionment of the Ohio House of representatives and Issue 4 will permit the state to make and guarantee loans for industrial development.

Hairdressers Plan Contest

Final plans for the hair styling contest to launch "National Beauty Salon Week" were outlined at the meeting of the East Liverpool Affiliate 15 of the National Hairdressers Association Tuesday night at the A. & H. School of Beauty Culture.

The affair will begin at 1 p.m. Feb. 14 at the school and contestants are limited to unit members. The state association is planning to send judges.

Mrs. Helen Clark, chairman of beauty salon week observance Feb. 14-20, said the event will be open to the public at 2 p.m. and will feature a tea. Presentation of awards and color slides of the new hair trends will be shown. Names of contestants may be submitted until the morning of the event.

Mrs. Diane DeVille, unit president, announced a dress rehearsal for the hair style and fashion show will be held Feb. 15 at Westgate School. A teenage queen will be chosen at the program to be presented Feb. 17.

Refreshments were served 19 by Mrs. DeVille and Mrs. Evelyn Messenger. Mrs. Doris Whittaker and Mrs. Phyllis Moore were guests.

The next session will be held March 2 at the school.

Funeral Services Conducted For Noted Journalist
NEW YORK (AP) — Kent
Cooper, former general manager of The Associated Press, was buried in nearby Tarrytown Wednesday after funeral services at the Park Avenue Christian Church.

He died Sunday at 84 in West
Palm Beach, Fla. He had retired from The AP in 1951.

The funeral was attended by several hundred persons, including many prominent figures in journalism.

The Rev. Dr. Hampton
Adams, minister of the church, said in a prayer: "He was granted tenure of years that enabled him to see many of the ideas that were born and nurtured in his mind brought to fruition to the lasting benefit of his profession and the people of this and all other nations."

Cooper fought for and won free exchange of news among nations. Among those at the funeral were his widow, the former Sarah A. Gibbs, and a daughter by a previous marriage, Mrs.
George L. Seeger.

Believing Butcher
SPLIT, Yugoslavia in Butcher Petar Brkic from Konjsko, a village near this Adriatic Sea city, has a unique way of running his business. He cuts the meat, displays it on the counter, leaves a sharp knife and walks out of the shop.

The customers then serve themselves, weighing the meat and writing in a book what they bought. When the butcher returns, he simply collects the money.

early today in a fire which swept through their rural home 15 miles north of here.

The husband pushed his wife out a window and she raced a blazing frame structure.
State Police identified the victim as: William Gilbert Slater, 34, his three children by a previous marriage, William Jr., 7; Debora Victoria, 4, and Patricia

Ann, 5, and Mrs. Slater's son Jones said Lawrence Slater, a former marriage, Robert Andrew Laney, 5.

Slater's wife, Juanita, 30, escaped injury but was treated at a Charleston hospital for shock.
State Police Trooper R. E.

The scene was an isolated area almost inaccessible because of recent snow and a narrow road leading into it. The community is Trace Fork, near Sissonville.

Safe Sledding
BELGRADE — Sixteen of the hilliest streets in Belgrade were closed to all auto traffic this winter, so the children

The Rev. Grant Lowe of the New Cumberland United Presbyterian Church was speaker at a joint meeting of Women's Associations of the Westminster and First United Presbyterian Churches of Chester Tuesday evening at Westminster Church.

The topic was "Church and State" and a question-and-answer period followed. Guests attended from Newell.

Mrs. Richard Barnhart led devotions with prayer, Bible stories and the singing of "America" and "America the Beautiful." Stories were read from old school books. Mrs. Theodore Martin was accompanist.

Mrs. C. O. Comm conducted the Mission Yearbook of Prayer.

A moment of silent prayer was observed in memory of the late Mrs. Nora Scott and Mrs. Julia Davis.

Mrs. J. M. Brand, president of the Westminster Association, presided. Mrs. Barnhart, program chairman, introduced the speaker. Door greeters were Mrs. Roy DeLong and Mrs. James Cooper. Hostesses were members of the Lydia, Miriam and Eunice Circles.

Mrs. James Swain presided at the separate business meeting of the First Church group. Routine reports were heard. Fifteen members were present.

Mrs. Brand presided at the business meeting of the Westminster group. Routine reports were heard. Twenty members were present. A silent bake sale was planned with Mrs. Fred Hood chairman. Future projects scheduled are sale of church note paper and nylon-net chore balls and a spring concert by a college choir.

Mrs. DeLong announced the World Day of Prayer observance will be held March 5 at the First church.

The next meeting will be held April 6 as a joint session at the First church.

District's Science Fair Ends Operations And Allots Funds

The Board of Trustees of the Tri-State Science Fair voted to dissolve the seven-year-old organization at a luncheon meeting Wednesday at the Toronto Lanes in Toronto.

"Lack of interest, especially at the high school level" was cited as the chief reason given by the trustees to disband the fair which was inaugurated by the East Liverpool Business & Professional Women's Club in 1958.

The motion to dissolve the corporation was made by Bruce von der Heydt of Toronto, vice president, and Lawrence D. Morgan of Follansbee.

The trustees voted to distribute the assets to the schools whose pupils "diligently" participated and received awards over the last three years. The motion was made by Bruce M. LaRue of Weirton and Dr. Edith Gilmore of East Liverpool.

The audited financial report of Mrs. Nessie R. Dunlop of East Liverpool, secretary-treasurer, showed a cash balance of $645.67.

The amount each school will receive will be worked out on a percentage basis by von der Heydt and John Lawew of Steubenville, president.

Letters will be sent with the checks notifying the schools the money must be used to purchase books and equipment or as awards in local science fairs.

When the fair was established in 1958 by the BPW Club, it was held at the new Westgate School gymnasium here.

It was incorporated Nov. 26, 1960, by the late Ralph W. Betts, William Black and Sidney C. Porter.

When the fair grew too large for the gymnasium here, it was moved to the Steubenville Arena where the last fair was held in March.

Wellsville Arts Club Guest Discusses 'Pay Television'

"Pay Television" was discussed by Theodore Eiland, vice president and general manager of WSTV-TV, at the meeting of the Wellsville Arts Club Tuesday night in the Elks Home.

He pointed out how it would affect the public's pocketbook and said that if successful it will be the end of TV for the ordinary family.

He also explained the use of community cable TV and the combining cable with TV. Mrs. Janet O'Hara, program chairman, introduced Eiland, who has been in radio and TV for 25 years. He is a graduate of West Virginia University School of Journalism.

A report of the Heart Fund drive, with the civic committee in charge, was given by Mrs. Eileen Bush, chairman. A door-to-door canvass will be made Feb. 21 by Key Club members. Miss Luella Thompson, president, announced a nominating committee consisting of Mrs. Betty Bar, Mrs. Phyllis Nelson and Mrs. Josephine Tarr. Minutes and the treasurer's report were given by Mrs. Betsy Erwin.

City Motorist Charged After Calcutta Mishap

A city motorist was cited by the Ohio Highway Patrol Wednesday afternoon after his car and another collided on the Smiths Ferry - Calcutta Rd. at Mud Ln.

Officers at Lisbon said a 1954 sedan operated by Harry Willard Stacey, 20, of 1012 River-vue St. was headed south on Mud Ln. when it slid past the stop sign and into the side of a passing 1961 convertible driven by Bruce James Warren, 18, of Calcutta.

Stacey was charged with failure to yield the right-of-way.

Ohio Senators Split On UAR Food Vote

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ohio's senators split Wednesday night in the Senate vote on the administration - supported amendment to an emergency agricultural appropriations bill softening a House ban against surplus food commodity shipments to Egypt. The Senate passed the amendment 44-38.

Voting with the majority was Democrat Stephen M. Young of Cleveland. Democrat Frank Lausche of Cleveland voted against.

Talks Moving Slowly In Costly Dock Strike

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Negotiations moved slowly in the costly and crippling East and Gulf Coast longshoremen's strike, which entered its 25th day today.

Holding up settlement of the strike are unresolved agreements between dockers and shipping officials in Philadelphia; Galveston, Tex., Miami, Fla., and Hampton Roads, Va. The International Longshoremen's Association has refused to send any of its men back to work, even where new contracts have been settled, until total agreement is reached.

Fast Action Due Teacher Pay Hike Bill

CHARLESTON (AP)—The state administration's teacher pay raise bill is expected to be hurried to the floor in the West Virginia legislature now that the needed extra financing for the first year has been assured with passage of a retail sales tax increase.

Approved last week in the House, the sales tax measure sailed through the Senate on a 25-9 vote Wednesday and is now headed for certain approval by Gov. Hulet Smith.

The outcome was never in doubt and the 30 minutes of debate preceding the Senate vote was just for the record. Twenty-two Democrats and four Republicans opposed it.

Starting July 1, the measure will put into effect a straight 3-per-cent sales tax rate, compared with the present 2 per cent on the first dollar and 3 per cent above $1.

The increase will provide an estimated $2.9 million of the added financing needed for the first year of the public school teacher salary raise program backed by Smith and major education organizations.

The salary measure, amounting to an additional outlay of $10 million in state funds next fiscal year and $30.5 million over a three-year period, is now pending in the Finance Committees of both chambers. The Senate and House Education Committees already have approved it.

The Senate passed 26-7 Wednesday a liquor bill by Sen. Chester R. Hubbard, R-Ohio, which proved less controversial than some had expected. There was only a token wet-vs.-dry debate.

Tompos Bill Urges Car Sales Licensing

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—The businesses of selling automobiles and parts as well as wrecker services would be placed under state licensing and regulation by a bill introduced in the Senate today.

The bill by Sen. William Tompos, D-Hancock, also would establish a Motor Vehicle Dealer and Salesmen Licensing Board.

Blow Torch Use Cited In Blaze At Wellsville

Fire, blamed on a blow torch being used to thaw a frozen water line, caused minor damage to the bathroom floor at the home of Mary Yanko, 324 2nd St., Wellsville, Wednesday at 12:20 p. m.

Firemen said the open flame ignited the flooring of the first-floor bathroom.

Chief Robert Lewis issued a warning today against the use of any type of open flame to thaw frozen lines.

Hot water, a heating lamp or an electric iron are suggested as much safer.

Ohio Jaycee President Finds City 'On Upswing'

"East Liverpool appears to be a town that is on the upswing," Philip Bouckaert, president of the Ohio Junior Chamber of Commerce, commented during his talk at a noon luncheon of civic leaders Wednesday at the Travelers Hotel. Forty-three attended.

Bouckaert said he received this impression after touring the town and visiting city officials. He said he has visited many cities in Ohio and it is easy to determine those which are progressing and those which are going backwards.

His visitation was arranged by the East Liverpool Junior Chamber. His purpose was to meet with interested city officials and civic leaders to seek more ways in which the East Liverpool Jaycees and Ohio Jaycees can be of more service to the community.

"We must stop thinking the world exists and ends at the city limits. We must look beyond the borders," he said. Bouckaert gave as an example of how the local Jaycees can utilize information gathered through the state organization. The Jaycees can learn from other chapters what has been done in certain areas and thereby avoid certain pitfalls. The city can do this by remaining in contact with other communities," he indicated.

Bouckaert hit against the "narrow outlook." He urged everyone to inform themselves of pending laws in the State Legislature. "You have an obligation to have an opinion one way or another."

Bouckaert said the Ohio Jaycees are arranging a meeting in Columbus with all the state representatives and senators. Each Jaycee chapter will be invited to send two representatives to meet with them and ask questions, he said.

Bouckaert was accompanied by Vernon Gregg, a Jaycee public relations director. He was introduced by Robert Lewis, who was in charge of arrangements.

Mayor Merrill Hall gave the welcome. Bouckaert was taken on a tour of the Hall China Co. and presented an electric coffee percolator.

He was then escorted to Lisbon where he spoke at the Lisbon Jaycee Bosses Night dinner. Bouckaert is the 36th president of the Ohio Jaycees.

Navy Man Dies In Crash

David H. Couch, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Couch, 754 Minerva St., was killed at 4 a. m. today in a traffic crash near Toms River, N. J.

He was stationed with the Navy at Lakehurst Naval Air Station, and was a mechanic third class attached to the Helicopter Utility Squadron 4.

A 1961 graduate of East Liverpool, he was a member of the varsity football squad.

He was born in East Liverpool Aug. 26, 1943.

He was a member of St. Alloysius Catholic Church. He was named "Explorer Scout of the Year" in 1961 by the Columbiana Boy Scout Council.

Besides his parents, he leaves two sisters, Miss Beverly Couch at home and Mrs. James (Helen) Mutchler of Norwalk, and the paternal grandmother, Mrs. Helen Couch of San Gabriel, Calif.

The Dawson Funeral Home is arranging services.

Officers Chosen At Country Club

David E. Beatty was elected president of the Board of Trustees of the Country Club at the annual business meeting Wednesday night.

Beatty, who had been vice president, succeeds John M. Koos.

Other officers named were Richard J. Clark, vice president, and Richard R. Crable, secretary-treasurer.

Named to three-year terms as trustees were Beatty, J. Norman Nicely and William F. Porter.

About 40 attended the meeting which followed dinner.

Contest In Primary

Joseph Opposes Mayor At Salem

Mayor Dean B. Cranmer of Salem, Democrat, bidding for his sixth non-consecutive term, will be opposed in the primaries May 4 by Council President Ford Joseph Jr., who sought the state representative's post unsuccessfully in 1964.

Frank Mason is the unopposed Republican candidate for mayor. The Democratic mayoralty fight is the only contest on either ticket.

Salem Republicans will skip the May primaries under Ohio's "no contest" law, which provides there need be no party balloting in the absence of contests.

Following the primaries, the GOP candidates automatically will receive certificates of nomination to advance them to the November general election. Here's a complete list of the candidates:

REPUBLICAN
Mayor: Frank Mason.
Council President: John F. Keener.

Treasurer: George C. Equizi.
Solicitor: Thomas H. Coe.
Council - at - Large: Ralph K. Zimmerman, John E. Rance and Joyce S. Wilson.

First Ward: Floyd P. Crawford.

Second Ward: Thomas B. Smith.

Third Ward: Charles Gibbs.

Fourth Ward: Michael Schuler.

DEMOCRATS
Mayor: Dean B. Cranmer and Ford Joseph Jr.
Council President: John E. Crawford.

Treasurer: Victoria Atkinson.
Solicitor: (No candidate)
Council - at - Large: Edgar L. Finn, Albert Lesch and James G. Aldom.

First Ward: George A. Ehrhart.

Second Ward: Harold J. Astory.

Third Ward: Robert Straub.

Fourth Ward: Arnold W. Kovach.

President Of URW Mars Contract Plans

CLEVELAND (AP) — The United Rubber Workers Union "can't stand in the way of automation," International President George Burdon told the union's policy committee, "but we can and should have a fair share of the fruits of automation."

Burdon told 200 delegates meeting here Wednesday that in laying down a program for contract negotiations next month they should consider the following: Double time for overtime, reduction in working hours, correction of alleged inequities between plants and within plants, cost of living increases, improved holidays and other fringe benefits and finding a way for workers to share in wealth from increased productivity.

Art Kassel, Former Bandleader, Claimed

VAN NUYS, Calif. (AP) — Art Kassel, who for 35 years led a dance band he called his "Castles in the Air," is dead at 67.

An illness of several months claimed his life Wednesday at his Van Nuys home. His family said kidney complications led to his death.

Mayor Sure Of Election At Leetonia

Unopposed on his own slate and with no candidate on the Democratic ticket, Mayor Ralph B. Kennedy of Leetonia, Republican, virtually was assured of election to a new term when the May 4 primary filing deadline passed Wednesday afternoon at the County Election Board.

Kennedy is seeking his fifth term. He also was unopposed in the 1963 election. Kennedy is president of Berg's Bretzels, Inc., at Leetonia.

Leetonia Republicans have only one contest — a five-man race for four nominations for councilman. The party has an incomplete slate of two for Trustees of Public Affairs, with three to be nominated.

Leetonia Democrats entered no candidate for mayor, but otherwise the party's slate is complete.

However, Democrats will skip the primary under the Ohio "no contest" law, as there is no race for any of the nominations. The Democratic candidates automatically will advance to the general election in November.

Here's a complete list of the candidates:

REPUBLICAN
Mayor: Ralph B. Kennedy.
Clerk: R. Maxine Coleman.
Treasurer: DeEria R. Smith.

Council (4 to nominate): W. Merle Reese, Harry C. Gintler, Clarence M. Bricker, Elby A. Morris and Joseph D. Weikert.

Trustees of Public Affairs (3 to nominate): Russell Smith and Orrin G. Deffenbaugh.

DEMOCRATIC Mayor: (No candidate).
Clerk: Daniel A. Butch.

Treasurer: Elizabeth Kegelmeyer.
Council (4 to nominate): Edward J. Duke, Charles J. Lanza, Clem Tortora and Carl H. Varian.

Trustees of Public Affairs (3 to nominate): James H. Cimminelli, Clifford R. Hinerman and Patrick Mango.

Broadcasting Firm Given State Articles

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Articles of incorporation for profit have been issued by the state to the Kittyhawk Broadcasting Co., Cincinnati.

The organization seeks to operate radio and television broadcast stations. Incorporators were listed as Vincent J. Leheny, Martin J. McGetrick and Frederick E. Dorkin.

American Freed By Soviet After Jail Sentence

MOSCOW (AP) — Peter Landerman, an American student jailed for the death of a Soviet in an auto accident, was released today after serving 16 months of a 3-year sentence, an American Embassy spokesman announced.

The spokesman said the president of the Supreme Soviet reviewed Landerman's case and decided to release him "on humanitarian grounds."

Landerman, 24, of Riverside, Calif., was turned over to an official of the embassy's consular section at noon today. He will fly to New York Friday.

A former student at the University of California, Landerman was sentenced on Sept. 27, 1963, after a four-day trial.

He was driving a car filled with American students when he hit a Soviet pedestrian near Minsk on Aug. 15, 1963.

Landerman told the court the man was pushing a motorcycle along the road and that there were no lights on the motorcycle. He said lights from oncoming traffic temporarily blinded him.

American officials had not been informed where Landerman was serving his term, but last Dec. 23, he was brought to Moscow and permitted to visit one hour with James A. Klemstine, consul at the U.S. Embassy in Moscow.

Child Expert Dies

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — Beatrice Chandler Gesell, 90, who with her husband founded the Gesell Institute of Child Development, died Wednesday. Her husband the late Dr. Arnold L. Gesell, was one of the nation's best known child specialists.

Columbiana's Mayor Has No Primary foe

Mayor Lee Harrold of Columbiana, Democrat, was assured of renomination for a new term in the primaries May 4 when the filing deadline passed Wednesday at the County Election Board.

Harrold, unopposed in May, will run in the November general election against Dale G. Kamper, the lone Republican mayoralty candidate.

Harrold, owner of the Columbiana Milling & Supply Co., now is serving his second term.

Republicans have a six-way race for four nominations for Council and a five-man contest for three nominations for Trustees of Public Affairs.

Democrats also have a six-way race for four Council nominations. There are four candidates for the three nominations for Trustees of Public Affairs. All other candidates are unopposed on both slates.

REPUBLICAN

Mayor: Dale G. Kamper.
Clerk: George R. Snok.
Treasurer: June Kendall.

Council (4 to nominate): Donald T. Gormley, John A. Robinson, Robert L. Bott, Dale S. Klingensmith, William C. Engberg and Richard K. McKee.

Trustees of Public Affairs (3 to nominate): George E. Herrmann, Carl S. Keller, Kenneth E. Bell, Leland E. Bricker and Raymond E. Mackall.

DEMOCRATIC

Mayor: Lee Harrold.
Clerk: Harry L. Bowker.
Treasurer: Adin Kauffman.

Council (4 to nominate): Donald E. Young, Donald J. Longshore, Ryan E. Snyder, Edward G. Miller, Merle R. Esterly and Clinton W. Faulk.

Trustees of Public Affairs (3 to nominate): Kenneth P. Brewer, Jack W. Clunk, Roy E. Allen and Howard Gustafson.

Pair Being Held In Shooting Of Ohio Policeman

GEORGETOWN, Ohio (AP) — Brown County Sheriff William E. Utter said two 23-year-old men had been taken into custody and were being questioned in connection with the shooting earlier today of Georgetown policeman Cyril B. Heaton, 48.

The sheriff withheld identification of the men pending further investigation.

Heaton was critically wounded while on routine night patrol duty shortly after midnight. Sheriff Utter said the officer apparently surprised burglars at the Cahall Farm Implement Store on U.S. 68 on the south edge of town.

Utter said Heaton was shot several times with a .32 caliber pistol. The assailants then ripped out the radio in his car before they fled off in an old model car, Utter said.

Heaton was listed in critical condition in Brown County Hospital here.

Utter said the wounded policeman apparently tried to drive himself to the hospital, less than a half mile away from the shooting scene. But he was unable to make it and was found in the squad car near the hospital.

Crucible To Expand Warehouse Facilities

The Crucible Steel Co. has begun constructing a new steel service center warehouse and office in Houston and is doubling the size of its St. Paul - Minneapolis Service Center warehouse.

Increasing demand for Crucible stainless, alloy and tool steels, coupled with the rapid growth of the Houston and Twin Cities markets, prompted the decision to erect new facilities, the firm said at Pittsburgh.

Ohio School Board Praised By Institute

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Institute for American Strategy of Chicago has praised the Ohio Board of Education for significant steps in encouraging state schools to teach children about the dangers of communism.

The institute, in a newly published booklet, noted that Ohio law does not require schools to teach about communism, but gave Supt. E. E. Holt and his staff credit for encouraging such education.

Madden Re-Elected As Steering Chairman

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Democratic Steering Committee has re-elected Rep. Ray J. Madden of Indiana as chairman.

The 21-member group, which includes Thomas L. Ashley of Ohio, Wednesday also adopted a resolution of support for President Johnson on matters involving foreign policy.

Combining two design themes from the city of Brasilia, the credenza buffet offers a variety of uses. It is ideal for storage, books, hi-fi, recording equipment or records.

Curved columns which characterize the Palace of Justice in the city of Brasilia are the inspiration for the bases of a number of tables in the furniture grouping.

Room divider combines three design themes from the city of Brasilia... the sweeping base of the Executive Palace, paneling from the Chapel and the Colonnade motif.

BRASILIA Cathedral table bears positive resemblance to the multi-spined Cathedral in the city of Brasilia. Inlay on top surface of this unusual table again repeats Colonnade motif.

Serving cart features tiles on top copied from original tiling on the Chapel of Our Lady of Fatima at Brasilia. Colonnade and sweeping base motifs are also seen in this serving unit.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Who is a man's closest relative, his wife or his mother?

Recently my husband was filling out a card in his new wallet. It had a space for "closest relative." Wesley filled in his mother's name and showed it to me. I was awfully hurt.

We have been married 17 years and have six children. I always thought a man's closest relative was his wife. When I told Wesley how I felt he said we were related by law—but that was all. If I'm not this man's closest relative after 17 years and six kids, I'd like to know it.

Thank you for any help you can give me.—STRANGER IN THE HOUSE.

Dear Stranger: Your husband means you are not blood relatives. You are his next of kin, however, and the six kids follow you. His mother is actually in eighth place if he wants to get technical.

PS: Tell Wesley that being related is not nearly so important as being friends.

Too Talkative

Dear Ann: I'm a college senior, female. A few weeks ago I asked a classmate, a nice-looking, intelligent girl, if she would like a blind date. (My steady boy friend wanted a date for a friend of his.) She accepted readily.

The evening went off well, I thought. The two seemed busily engaged in conversation and I was sure they liked each other.

This morning my friend asked me if I knew why the fellow never called her for another date. She said, "We had a great evening. I'm sure I made a favorable impression."

I decided to investigate, so I telephoned the fellow. He said, "Mabel is a nice person but I couldn't take all that yakkety yak. I gave up trying to talk after two hours of listening to her tell me how smart she was."

I don't have the nerve to tell Mabel what he said, but please print this letter for the benefit of other girls who could use the hint.—FRIEND.

Dear Friend: The Bible tells us that Samson slew 1,000 Philistines with the jawbone of an ass. Heaven only knows how many romances are killed every day with the same weapon.

The bright girl relaxes — and listens. The dame who is so afraid of being thought dull that she unlooses a drumfire of nonstop conversation doesn't go over. She merely wears everyone out.

Maid Of All Work

Dear Ann: Our 18-year-old daughter is a baby sitter five days a week for neighbors who have three children. The father works odd hours and the mother has a job which keeps her away from home from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m.

Do you feel it is right that a baby sitter should be expected to wash, iron, cook, clean and even do the mending?

On Monday when she comes to work she finds all the dishes left over from Saturday and Sunday. Is this fair? I would very much appreciate your views on this subject. I feel that these people are taking advantage of our daughter because they know she needs the work. How about it?—G.N.C.

Dear G.N.C.: I don't know what these people are paying your daughter, but she certainly needs a new title.

A girl who does the washing, ironing, cooking, cleaning and mending is no baby-sitter. She is a full-time maid and cook and she should be paid accordingly.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Open House Set For Apartments

A new private housing development, the Town & Country Apartments, will be unveiled here Sunday.

Open house will be held from 2 p.m. to 7 p.m. at the facilities at 815-817 Lang St.

The 24 apartments are housed in two separate two- and a-half story buildings "designed for carefree living," in the words of the developer, Morris Simon, president of The E. and M. Corp. of Girard. Simon has constructed similar apartment houses in Youngstown, Boardman, Niles, Warren, Steubenville, New Castle and Sharon.

Leasing arrangements are being handled by the W. E. Kaiser Agency, 502 Walnut St.

EACH BUILDING has 12 apartments and Sunday's visitors will have an opportunity to view the first completed one on which work started in September 1964.

Faced with white brick, each building has six long pillars that provide a colonial-style appearance.

The apartments contain soundproof floors and walls between the upstairs and downstairs and also adjoining apartments.

Outside, there will be landscape lighting and the lawns will be terraced with a special sod instead of planted grass. A custodian will reside in the apartments, Kaiser said, and will be responsible for the maintenance and repair of the buildings.

There also will be an assigned parking space area for each tenant.

The individual apartments contain a combination living room - dining room with adjoining kitchen equipped with metal storage cabinets and other modern conveniences.

THERE ARE an equal number of one- and two-bedroom apartments. The bathrooms are tiled to the required length and have a vinyl tile floor. The electric ranges in each apartment are 31 inches wide.

Facilities for washing clothes are available in a utility room on the terrace floor. Washers and dryers provided by the developer will be housed here.

In addition, each tenant will have a storage bin with their own key to it.

The windows are of the aluminum type and come equipped with storm windows. The bedrooms range in size from 9 by 12 to 9 by 14. Various murals on santee material grace the dining room walls.

Sign Covers It All

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—There's a sign on the wall of Bill's Shoe Service that pretty well sums up the shop's business. It reads: "We doctor shoes, heel them, attend their dyeing and save their soles."

Indians Will Pay Colavito $50,000

CLEVELAND (AP) — Now that the Cleveland Indians have Rocky Colavito under contract for an estimated $50,000 to $55,000, manager Birdie Tebbetts can do some serious concentrating on the problem of where to play the popular slugger.

To Colavito, declaring himself "happy to be back" after a five year absence from the lakefront stadium, it makes no difference where he plays.

Rocky is an outfielder by trade, although he had a brief fling at pitching when he was last in a Cleveland uniform, but he says he'll be happy to play first base if that's where Tebbetts wants him.

"If I'm going to play first base," he told newsmen after signing his contract Wednesday, "I would like to have the whole spring to get ready for that position."

Winter dealing by Tribe President Gabe Paul also brought outfielder Chuck Hinton to the Indians, and Tebbetts will be doing some juggling before he gets his lineup set.

Colavito was traded away in 1960 by the then general manager, Frank Lane. That year Rocky signed for $35,000 after a heated battle over terms. He didn't sign until after the March 1 holdout date, and he left Cleveland before the season started.

He came out smiling after Wednesday's 90-minute meeting with Paul and declared himself "satisfied with my contract terms." Terms were not announced, but one report was that Rocky received a $3,000 raise over last year's contract with Kansas City, which has been estimated at $48,500 to $52,500.

WBA Proposes Patterson Meet Terrell Or Machen

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP) — The World Boxing Association has proposed that Floyd Patterson meet the winner of the upcoming Ernie Terrell-Eddie Machen bout for its version of the heavyweight championship.

Tony Macaroni, chairman of the WBA's championship committee, wired the Patterson camp Wednesday night, asking if Patterson were willing to meet the winner within 90 days after the March 5 bout in Chicago.

Macaroni said the winner of the Terrell-Machen bout is committed to meet either Patterson or an opponent named by the WBA. He said Patterson earned the title shot with his Monday night victory over George Chuvalo.

Patterson held the championship twice before losing it to Sonny Liston. Cassius Clay defeated Liston for the championship but the WBA declined to recognize the fight and stripped Liston of the title it originally recognized.

Toronto Brings 10-2 Mark

Knights' Paced By 6-4 Sophomore

Toronto High, a team which could be the top seeded squad when the Sectional AA tournament pairings are made later this month, invades Memorial Auditorium Friday night for the Potters final home game of the season.

After Friday, the Potters will conclude the regular season with four straight games on the road.

COACH Paul Kalivoda's club, led by a 6-4 sophomore Dick Symons, is sporting a 10-2 record best of any of the schools which will participate in the Sectional tourney at Steubenville.

Toronto is in the best position to win the Class AA Ohio Valley Athletic Conference and also is undefeated in the Buckeye Border Conference with a 5-0 record.

The Red Knights are undefeated in their last five games and that is largely due to the performance of Symons who has scored 247 points in 12 games for an average of over 20 per contest.

HIS HIGH this season was 35 points against Mingo Junction and 33 last Saturday night in a game with Springfield Local.

Seniors Bill Lloyd, 6-2, and Jeff Simpson, 5-11, will be in the starting lineup along with juniors Denny Leasure, 5-11, and Gary Fisher, 6 foot.

Toronto has lost only to Winterville 59-50 and Steubenville Central, 44-40, but the Knights avenged the loss to Winterville in a return match by a 64-52 margin.

Toronto's remaining games are with Central, Beaver Local, Wellsville, Jefferson and Southern Local.

Action Begins Tuesday

8 Teams Entered In Junior High Tourney; East Could Meet West

A possible "rubber match" between East Junior and Westgate may develop in next week's Junior High Tournament which will get underway Tuesday with eight teams entered.

Both East and West would have to gain the finals to bring about a third meeting. Each city team has scored a victory over the other.

THE FOUR winners from Tuesday's games will advance to the semi-finals to be staged at Memorial Auditorium Thursday with the first game set for 4:30.

The finals will be held Saturday at 2 p. m. following a consolation game at 1.

Westgate appears to have a stiffer task since the Wildcats would have to face Big Red in the semi-finals if they get by Salem.

WESTGATE defeated Big Red twice in the regular season but both contests were very close.

East Junior and Westgate played for the second time last Friday and the contest went into an overtime before East nipped West by a point.

A 10-man all-tourney team will be picked Saturday and trophies will be awarded the champion and runnerup and the consolation winner. A trophy also will be presented to the best foul shot.

East Closes With Victory For 14-1 Mark

East Junior High completed one of its most successful seasons Tuesday with a 55-41 victory over Weirton Madonna on the East coast.

The decision gave Coach Frank Melchior's team an overall 14-1 record. The Panthers will now await the Junior High tournament next week.

Oak Glen Tickets On Sale For 3 Games

Tickets for Oak Glen's three home games next week are on sale at Herche's Drugs in Chester and New Cumberland and Carnahan's in Newell. Oak Glen will play Benwood Union Tuesday, Wellsburg Friday and Morgantown Saturday. Tickets for the regional wrestling tournament Feb. 20 at Oak Glen also are on sale at the three drug stores.

2 Ohio Teams Ranked With Small Big 10

By The Associated Press
Arkansas AM&N is the lone new entry in this week's Associated Press small-college basketball poll. However, its seventh-place ranking may be short-lived.

Evansville continues to hold a commanding lead in the balloting while Central State of Ohio took over the runner-up position from High Point, N.C.

Arkansas AM&N climbed to seventh on the strength of 116-112 victory over Grambling. However, AM&N's 17-0 record was marred Monday night when it lost to Alcorn A&M 108-75. The latest poll was based on games through last Saturday.

Fifteen of the 16 regional experts participating in the balloting listed Evansville as the top team and the Aces picked up one vote for the No. 3 spot, for 158 points. Central State advanced one place with 118 points on a basis of 10 for a first-place vote, 9 for second.

High Point fell one notch to third as a result of an 82-77 overtime setback by Lenoir Rhyne. High Point is now 16-2.

The Top Ten, with first-place votes in parentheses, and total points:

1. Evansville (11) 158
2. Central State 118
3. High Point 84
4. Fairmont, W. Va. 73
5. Gannon 65
6. Winston Salem 39
7. Arkansas AM&N (1) 38
8. Phila. Textile 34
9. Wittenberg 29
10. Grambling 12-5 24

Dayton Sets Point Mark; 2 Teams Go 4 Overtimes

By The Associated Press
It was just one of those nights in Ohio college basketball where the unusual becomes usual.

For example:

—Dayton tied its scoring record while star Henry Finkel scored less.

—Wittenberg and Denison just couldn't find the basket so they went into overtime—four times.

—Otterbein's ace Don Carlos scored 49 points on only 26 shots.

It all began when the Dayton Flyers toppled weakened Xavier 112-81 and equalled the school scoring record set in 1961 again at a Seton Hall in Madison Square Garden.

Finkel, the nation's leading field goal shooter, played only 28 minutes, hit 8 of 10 from the field and scored just 17 points, about 9 below average. But while Xavier concentrated on him, his teammates poured in the points, good enough for a new Dayton home court record. The old one was 109 points against Bowling Green in 1955.

At Springfield, Wittenberg and Denison struggled along to a 23-21 halftime score with the Tigers ahead. The game ended 43-43 and the overtimes began. Wittenberg broke the spell after four extra-play periods and won the Ohio Conference contest 64-60.

In another Ohio Conference battle, Otterbein defeated Capital 87-84 behind Don Carlos' 49 points, a new career and school individual scoring record.

Elsewhere in the Ohio Conference, Akron's Zips slipped by Mt. Union 68-65 and Ohio Wesleyan beat Marietta 94-83 in a game with 54 personal fouls.

In Mid-American Conference play, the Toledo Rockets snapped a five-game losing streak with a 91-86 win over Bowling Green. The victory left Toledo with a 1-3 conference mark and the Falcons with 3-4 in the MAC.

Another Mid-American team, Ohio University, took an easy one over intersectional foe San Francisco State 95-75.

Steubenville won in overtime from Muskingum 66-62.

Westgaters Top Bulldogs For 13th Win

Westgate bounced back from its defeat with East and scored a 43-30 victory over East Palestine Wednesday on the West End court.

The victory gives Westgate a 13-1 record with one game remaining with Wellsville today at 4:30 p. m. at West.

Eleven players broke into the scoring column for Westgate as Coach Ray Rolley cleared the bench early.

The Wildcats led 11-4 at the end of the first quarter and 28-12 at halftime.

Rex Campbell paced Westgate with 10 points. Tacher's eight markers paced East Palestine.

WESTGATE—43
Diddle 1-1-3; Jackson 1-2-4; Rowley 1-0-2; McVay 2-0-4; Bartram 2-0-4; Jones 1-1-3; Hendricks 0-1-1; Lowe 2-0-4; Campbell 5-0-10; Bickar 2-2-6; McFarland 1-0-2.

AVP, Police Continue In Two-Way Tie

There was no change in the Little Potters 8th Grade League race after American Vit. and Police Dept. posted victories Wednesday.

The Police almost staggered but edged Ogilvie's, 25-24, with Zanders scoring 14 points for the winners. Cunningham paced Ogilvie's to its near upset with 16 markers.

American Vit. paced by Montgomery's 11 topped Coca-Cola, 31-26. Baughman of Coca-Cola took scoring honors with 16.

In another contest, George Bright's nipped M & M Vending, 17-16, with Clark scoring 7 for Bright's and Eckles had the same total for M & M.

Wolfpack Streak Stopped By Duke

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

You might say Press Maravich's past has caught up with him.

Maravich was the undefeated North Carolina State basketball coach until Wednesday night when sixth-ranked Duke defeated his Wolfpack 84-74 and took over sole possession of first place in the Atlantic Coast Conference.

Instrumental in the victory was Jack Martin, a junior who played high school basketball in Section 3 of the Western Pennsylvania Athletic League, the same section in which Maravich had coached a few years earlier.

Although Marin came along after Maravich had headed South, the N.C. State coach always has kept in close touch with the rich basketball fields of western Pennsylvania.

Marin put on his best performance of the season, pouring in 32 points in Duke's 12th triumph against two defeats.

"We'd have won without him in there; he was out of this world," said Maravich after he saw his 11-game winning string halted. He hadn't lost since taking over from Everett Case two months ago and had the Wolfpack tied with Duke going into the game.

Marin, averaging 16.6 points a game before the vital ACC contest, flipped in 14 of 17 tries from the field. With slightly more than five minutes to play, State cut the Blue Devils' lead to 70-67, but Marin's jumper triggered Duke to its winning margin.

St. Joseph's, Pa., was the only other Top Ten team in action, topping Georgetown, D.C., 80-72 for its 18th victory in 19 games.

The third-ranked Hawks trailed until well into the second half before they got started. Georgetown held a 40-30 halftime lead.

The Hawks, however, rallied with a fast-break, scored 10 straight points with less than six minutes left and held on for its eighth straight triumph.

Although the schedule was somewhat light, at least four teams had to work more than their share of overtime. Arizona edged Bradley 85-83 in three overtimes, and Wittenberg, the ninth-ranked small-college team, outlasted Denison 64-60 in four overtimes.

A brief flurry of flying fists completed the Arizona-Bradley affair, won on Al Johnson's two free throws. Johnson scored six free throws altogether in the overtimes.

Unbeaten Evansville, the nation's No. 1 small-college team, posted its 17th victory by drubbing DePauw 97-81.

War On Water Pollution Mounts

By KEN MCCREARY
For THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Water pollution, in years gone by, was much like the weather — people talked about it, but nobody did anything about it.

That situation has changed — concern and resentment against contamination of valuable water sources is mounting across Ohio and most of the nation.

Actually, water pollution results primarily from our highly urbanized and industrial civilization. Leading causes of pollution are industrial wastes, improperly treated sewage, wastes from oil and gas well drilling, acids from strip-mining, agricultural wastes, and detergents which refuse to break down.

THE CONTROL and elimination of water pollution is the basic responsibility of the Ohio Water Pollution Control Board, a five-member panel working with the state health department. This agency controls permits for the discharge of domestic and industrial wastes into streams and lakes.

Although it has never used it, the board has the power to fine offenders up to $500 per day.

Since the board came into being eight years ago, 216 new sewage treatment plants have been built and another 82 have been improved. Still, there are a number of municipalities and industries under investigation for unacceptable disposal of waste products.

Another state agency vitally concerned with pollution is the Ohio Division of Wildlife.

When the contamination results in the death of fish or wildlife, its experts move in. A year ago the division embarked on a stern program on pollution cases. Enforcement "detectives" move quickly to collect all possible evidence.

WILDLIFE boss Dale Whitesell firmly believes the effort has been successful, noting that in the past year 32 fish-killing pollution cases have been investigated. Of these, 23 have resulted in claims for the cost of the destroyed fish and aquatic life. So far four claims have been settled with total payments of $27,133.

The latest is for $60, received this week from the Columbus suburb of Reynoldsburg, in payment for fish killed by improperly treated sewage dumped from its disposal plant during an expansion project.

Whitesell notes that from 1947 to 1963 the division investigated 1,311 cases of pollution, 729 of them involving fish-kills. From all these only 44 damage claims were filed, with only 25 settled for a total of $52,137.

"In line with our responsibility, we intend to take action in every instance of pollution," Whitesell said. "If someone kills a single fish, and we can prove it, we're going to take action on it."

The Wildlife Division has filed a claim for 28 cents against a farmer who allegedly allowed livestock area sewage to seep into a stream.

ALSO ACTIVE in the pollution battle is the Ohio River Valley Sanitation Commission, an eight-state compact in which Ohio plays a major role. Its primary concern is the Ohio and its tributaries.

Even though the agencies have taken great strides there is much still to be done. Some recent key developments:

Within two months, regulations requiring disposal of salt brine wastes from oil and gas well drilling are expected to take effect. The oil "boom" in and around Morrow County has touched off numerous reports of pollution of water supplies and streams.

Last week, the U.S. Senate voted 68-8, with Ohio's senators joining the majority, to approve the Water Pollution Control Act setting up a national anti-pollution policy.

The city of Cleveland says it will spend over $12 million dollars during the next two years to improve its sewage disposal facilities. There are indications, though, that this may not satisfy the Pollution Control Board.

Williamson Continues No. 1 In W.Va. Voting

By STRAT DOUTHAT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Williamson remained atop the Associated Press high school basketball poll this week, but the rest of the ratings underwent a major revision.

Wheeling, third last week after leading the survey of Associated Press sports writers from the start of the season, climbed back into second at the expense of Oceana. The Indians slid to third although improving their record to 13-0 Tuesday night.

Fourth place went to Dunbar's Bulldogs who pushed Charleston, ranked fourth last week, down two rungs to sixth. Logan took advantage of the Mountain Lions demise and advanced two notches to fifth.

Triadelphia jumped one position to 7th, followed by Stonewall Jackson, a newcomer to the top 10. The Generals defeated Charleston and Nitro during the past seven days.

Three teams crowded into ninth place. They were Nitro, Huntington and Fairmont West. Nitro held the same spot last week, but the Pony Express and Fairmont West both forced their way back onto the list after being dropped last week.

Bluefield again was 10th, and Parkersburg fell out of sight after losing to Huntington last week.

Williamson failed to get all 10 first place ballots as it did a week ago, but received seven for a total of 88 points. This was the lowest total of any leader all season, mainly because the voting was so close among the first four teams.

Wheeling, for example, was named first on one ballot and got 72 points in the voting to edge Oceana, which got the remaining two first place votes. Dunbar was only nine points out of second with 63 points.

The top 10:

1. Williamson
2. Wheeling
3. Oceana
4. Dunbar
5. Logan
6. Charleston
7. Triadelphia
8. Stonewall Jackson
9. Fairmont West (tie)
10. Huntington (tie)

Other teams receiving votes, in alphabetical order: Athens, Beckley, Beckley (Stratton), Bramwell, Elkins, Gary, Gary District, Lumberport, Martinsburg, Moundsville, Parkersburg, Ripley and Welch.

Appalachia Bill Praised By Scranton

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania called the Appalachian Regional Development Act a "historic landmark in state-federal relationships" today.

In testimony before the House Committee on Public Works, Scranton said the Appalachia bill, already passed by the Senate, would benefit Pennsylvania.

"The bill makes possible a pinpoint approach on the individual problems of each sub-region of Appalachia, which in turn will contribute to the economic development of the entire region," Scranton said.

Also scheduled to testify late this afternoon was Gov. Hulett Smith of West Virginia, the only state covered entirely by the Appalachian bill.

Scranton added the programs authorized by the act would not duplicate activities of existing programs such as those of the Area Redevelopment Act and Economic Opportunity Act.

Celtics Fall On Own Floor

BOSTON (AP) — The proof has arrived at last. The Boston Celtics can be beaten — even on their own court.

The fired up Baltimore Bullets turned the trick Wednesday night, handing the Celtics their second loss at home this season, 122-114. The loss snapped a string of 14 straight home-court victories for the defending National Basketball Association champions.

The victory moved Baltimore to within a half-game of the second-place St. Louis Hawks in the Western Division.

Boston's Eastern Division lead was cut to 10 games over second-place Cincinnati, which defeated Los Angeles 130-99 Wednesday night. The Royals' Oscar Robinson scored 44 points and contributed 11 assists.

In the first game of the NBA doubleheader at Boston Garden, Philadelphia romped to a 116-95 victory over New York.

Taylor Looks For Bucks To Play Spoiler

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Coach Fred Taylor says he expects Ohio State to play a spoiler's role in the homestretch run of the torrid Big Ten basketball race.

The Buckeyes, who have won or shared on unprecedented five straight conference titles, are firmly entrenched in the second division with only one victory in four starts.

Unhappy over the turn of events, Taylor shrugs off his team's poor showing.

"We'll hurt somebody before it's over . . . I'll tell you that," The youthful mentor isn't taking any "wait 'till next year" attitude either.

"I think we may have turned the corner after the Minnesota game. The kids were just lifeless in that one."

The Gophers trounced the Bucks, 97-77, which later led to a closed-door huddle between Taylor and the players.

"We told the kids we wanted to straighten out a few things and didn't think they were doing what they could do. We told them we think it's more fun playing for a winner than a loser," Taylor said.

Hard on the heels of that session came Ohio's first Big Ten triumph, a 98-86 pasting of Wisconsin.

The Bucks will get numerous opportunities to back Taylor on his spoiler's role tag. They have road contests against Illinois, Michigan and Indiana and play Illinois, Iowa and Michigan at home. All four schools are contenders for the title.

Arfons' Mark Accepted By Paris Group

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Art Arfons was notified today by the Federation Internationale de L'Automobile (FIA) in Paris that his 536.71 miles per hour in a jet racer had been accepted as a world land speed record. He is the first American to hold the record in 35 years.

It was the first time the FIA, the official governing body for international speed events and records, ever recognized a record set in a jet car. The previous official auto record was held by Donald Campbell of England, who turned in an average time of 403 miles per hour last June at Lake Eyre, Australia, in his Bluebird, which was powered by an internal gas turbine engine.

The "Green Monster," with which Arfons set his record last October on the Bonneville Salt Flats, is powered by a 17,500 horsepower jet engine taken from an F104 fighter plane.

Venturi Hopes To Compete In Pensacola Open

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — U.S. Open golf champion Ken Venturi, recovering from surgery to correct faulty blood circulation in his hands, said Wednesday he hopes to be physically fit to compete in the $35,000 Pensacola Open in Florida on March 3-7.

Venturi, operated on Jan. 27 for inflammation of the arteries, said he will leave Thursday for Palm Springs, Calif., "to get out of the cold weather."

His personal physician, Dr. Robert L. Woods of Los Angeles, will accompany him, Venturi said.

Surgeons took 27 stitches in Ken's back and left leg to relieve the artery inflammation. The stitches will come out next Tuesday, Venturi said.

Giants Name Pop Ivy As Defensive Coach

NEW YORK (AP) — Frank (Pop) Ivy, who has been a head coach in the Canadian, National and American Football Leagues, will serve as defensive coach of the New York Giants next season.

Ivy and former Giant Emilen Tunnell were signed Wednesday by the NFL club. Tunnell will be Ivy's assistant, concentrating on defensive backs.

Ivy, 49, replaces the retired Andy Robustelli after serving as a scout last season.

Bold Lad Out With Injury

Sadair Retired As Derby Field Becomes Confused

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The Kentucky Derby picture was more confused than ever today with Sadair retired to stud and Bold Lad out indefinitely with an injury, leaving only Jacinto among the Big Three still in training for the May 1 classic at Churchill Downs.

Sadair, champion money-winning 2-year-old with a record $498,217, suffered a fractured right wing of the coffin bone in his left foot Monday and Mrs. Mary B. Hecht, owner of the swift Florida-bred, said Sadair would be retired to stud in Kentucky.

The injury, first announced Tuesday, was more serious than at first reported and Mrs. Hecht said the son of Petare out of Blue Missy would be sent to a few mares this spring and have a full season in 1966 at Henry White's Plum Lane Farm in Lexington, Ky.

Wheatley Stable's Bold Lad, 1964 champion 2-year-old with eight wins and two seconds in 10 starts and winner of $387,741, popped a splint (a bony growth common to thoroughbreds) in his right foreleg, just to the inside of the cannon bone at the knee.

Trainer Bill Winfrey said Dr. William Reed, a veterinarian, would fire the injured part and he hoped to return Bold Lad, strapping son of Bold Ruler out of Misty Morn by Princequillo, to training in 10 days.

Winfrey said he had every hope of making the Flamingo Stakes at Hialeah on March 3. Jacinto is in California, where he has the fans talking of his three sparkling victories at Santa Anita. Like Bold Lad he is a son of Bold Ruler and is owned by William Haggin Perry.

Bold Lad's injury was reported Wednesday and he was a late scratch in the $30,650 Bahamas Stakes at Hialeah, which went to Harbor View Farm's Sparkling Johnny, a gelded Florida-bred son of Misty Flight out of Sparkle by Count Fleet.

Sparkling Johnny beat seven others in the slow time of 1:24 2-5 and paid $12.80 as third choice among the 20,307 fans. Battle Star was second and Umbrella Fella, the favorite at 7-5, finished third.

Sparkling Johnny carried 116 pounds, most of it apprentice Mike Venezia, and took down $19,992.50 for the biggest win of his career.

Radio Station Covers Trial In Courtroom

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A Coshocton radio station has covered a trial from inside the courtroom — a precedent which may open judicial doors across the state or slam them even tighter.

The action, if any is taken, now revolves around Canon 35, one of the rules governing judicial behavior as laid down by the American Bar Association.

The canon, tested and re-tested in several other states, says there shall be no broadcasting, telecasting or other electronic methods or cameras permitted during court proceedings.

But station WTNS at Coshocton, with approval of Judge Aubrey C. Wendt, filed 40 "beeper" reports from the courtroom during the three-day trial of man being tried for second-degree manslaughter in a traffic death.

The defendant was found innocent Wednesday.

Judge Wendt said the reporting method does not disrupt the decorum of court and did not compromise or prejudice the case.

Prior to acquittal, he denied a defense motion for a mistrial. The defense attacked the radio coverage.

News Director John Terry of WTNS said care was taken to assure that none of the beeper reports were broadcast at times when they might be heard by jurors.

Terry Geese, WTNS newsman, telephoned reports to the station which taped them and fitted them into regular programming.

The Coshocton coverage was the first in the county's common pleas court.

Was Canon 35 violated? Roger H. Smith, the president of the Ohio Bar Association, said the coverage appeared to him to be a "technical violation."

"But Smith, a Toledo attorney, added that Canon 35 is 'still in a state of flux.'"

He said the Ohio Bar hoped to meet with news media within the next six weeks to discuss just such matters.

Another spokesman of the bar association said it appeared to him that WTNS had accomplished "indirectly what Canon 35 prohibits directly."

Chief Justice Kingsley A. Taft of the Ohio Supreme Court, before whom such a violation could conceivably come up, had no comment.

Smith said he did not think the bar would take any action on its own unless a complaint were received.

Picket Issue Settled

LISBON — Officials of the Ballanoll Metal Products Co. and Steelworkers Local 6672 reached a settlement out of court Wednesday and Judge Joel H. Sharp continued the injunction suit brought by the firm against the union's mass picketing at the Leontina plant, where a strike started Saturday.

Jenkins Due Quizzing In Baker Probe

WASHINGTON (AP) — Walter Jenkins, President Johnson's former top assistant, is under subpoena to appear before the Senate Rules Committee today for secret questioning about the Bobby Baker case.

One committee source said flatly that Jenkins will not be there, but Chairman B. Everett Jordan, D-N.C., insisted that he expects him.

Jenkins has been under medical and psychiatric care since he resigned his White House post at Johnson's request last October after disclosure he twice had been arrested on morals charges.

The committee has subpoenaed Jenkins for questioning about testimony that he pressured a local insurance agent, Don B. Reynolds, into buying $1,208 worth of advertising time on the Austin television station controlled by Johnson's family.

Reynolds told the committee he had no use for the television time, but bought it at Jenkins' request in 1957 after selling Johnson, then the Senate Democratic leader, the first of two $100,000 life insurance policies.

Baker, who resigned under fire on Oct. 7, 1963, as secretary to the Senate's Democratic majority, was associated with Reynolds' insurance agency.

Jenkins, in a sworn statement to committee investigators, denied knowledge of any arrangements by which the advertising time was purchased.

Baker was called before the committee but refused on the constitutional grounds of possible self-incrimination to answer questions.

The stated purpose of the committee's inquiry is to find out if his pursuit of lucrative private business ventures while a Senate employee involved any conflict of interest.

Republican members of the Rules Committee demanded that Jenkins be called for questioning about what they termed the conflict between his statement and Reynolds' testimony.

The committee's Democratic majority rejected the GOP demands, touching off a Republican cry of whitewash that reverberated through last November's election campaign. Last Dec. 10 Jordan announced Jenkins would be subpoenaed "at an appropriate time."

Beard Takes Early Lead In Hope Classic

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — A small army of golfers fanned in four directions today with Frank Beard of Kentucky leading the procession into the second round of the 90-hole, $100,000 Bob Hope Classic.

The 25-year-old Louisville professional — you may recall his remarkable recovery from a sleeping sickness ailment that threatened his career in March last year — had a first round 66.

That was six strokes under par for the Bermuda Dunes Country Club, and Beard held a one-stroke lead starting out today.

The 128 pros, each with a three-man amateur team, switched partners and courses today with most of the big names — as well as Beard — playing at the La Quinta Country Club.

The other courses in play are the Eldorado and Indian Wells. All four tests are par 36-36-72. Jerry Steelsmith and Stan Thirk were tied at 67, and the 68 group included Bob Rosburg, Don January, Kermit Zarley, Chuck Courtney and Rod Funneth.

The ever-threatening figures of Arnold Palmer, in the 70 listing, Jack Nicklaus, 71, and Tony Lema, 72, were not far behind.

Also in the 70 bracket were the defending Classic champion, Tommy Jacobs, and Bill Casper Jr. Casper has been the most consistent pro of them all, yet still not a winner, in the 1965 winter circuit.

Anti-Castro Forces Shell Cuba Oil Depot

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Anti-Castro commandoes shelled an important Cuba oil depot Tuesday and claim to have caused heavy damage.

The Cuban government said damage was minor.

A gunboat bombarded the installation at Casilda, near Trinidad, with 57mm cannon and machine-gun fire, according to a Cuban armed forces communique broadcast by Havana Radio.

Militia repelled the boat and the only damage was to homes hit by shells, the Cuban government said.

Revolutionary Recovery Movement claimed it carried out the attack.

City Manager Post Has Woman Aspirant

ASHTABULA, Ohio (AP) — Mrs. Wilma Sherry, the first woman ever to file as a candidate for Ashtabula city manager, says her major interest, if she is elected, will be to eliminate her job as a political post.

Mrs. Sherry, a former vice president of City Council, says she only wants the manager's post so she can push a charter amendment to provide for a professional city manager who would be hired by the city rather than elected.

Laos Capital Reported As Quiet, Tense

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — Vientiane was reported quiet but tense today with loyalist forces of the deputy chief of staff, Gen. Kouprasith Abhay, apparently in control of the Lao capital after an abortive revolt in the army.

Reliable informants in Thailand reported no new fighting today in Vientiane.

Eight persons were known killed and 38 others wounded in bitter fighting Wednesday before Abhay's men put down the revolt of some 800 dissidents.

The U.S. and Thai Embassy buildings in Vientiane sustained minor damage. A Thai Embassy official was among the dead. None of the 1,000 Americans in the capital was believed hurt.

Vientiane airport was reported still closed to commercial traffic.

An unconfirmed report in Bangkok said foreign correspondents in Vientiane had been arrested.

Thai officials said nearly 10,000 persons fled Laos and sought refuge in the Nongkhai area of northern Thailand.

Pull Your Figure Out Of The Dumps

Are you game to accept an exciting challenge? Stand and walk as if you were one inch taller and two inches slimmer than you are. Get your posture on the slim up and down muscle track and you'll soon zip into that smaller dress with ease.

In pulling up to your full height, which muscles do you use? The middle muscles. The effect is streamlining, too. Then if you hold that bump of self-esteem on the top of your head high, you'll have it made.

YOUR posture shapes your silhouette. See for yourself. Take a critical view of yourself, standing sideways to a mirror. Stand slumped in indifferent posture, abdomen, leading, hips trailing. Now, starting with the pelvic girdle, get on the beam. As you pull up-and-in firmly with the lower abdominal muscles, tuck hips down and under. . . under you.

At ease. Keep shoulders relaxed. Do not elevate your shoulders or try to throw them back. The streamlining muscles are not attached to the shoulder girdle, and a lifting action there creates tension. Square your shoulders. . . lift your head. Good posture means proper alignment of body segments. When you stand and walk in perfect balance, the body is ready for smooth action.

Before this posture feels natural you will probably need to restore tone to the brace of abdominal muscles. The following toner is so easy to take. . . Position: Lie on back on floor, or bed, knees flexed, soles of feet flat on floor. Have arms out at shoulder level, elbows bent, forearms back on floor. This position squares shoulders.

ACTION: Pull up-and-in strongly with abdominal muscles, pressing small of back flat against floor. Hold muscle contraction for six to eight counts, breathing normally. Relax. Repeat three times, later five. This contraction slims waist area, too.

I met a friend who had acquired a regal bearing and a new radiance, and asked her secret. "It's 27 steps daily," she confided. So here is Margaret's exercise. . .

Stand tall, stretch arms above head, and pull up-and-in. "Slim" the middle measurement, and hold your head high. Keep knees slightly flexed and walk for 27 steps daily on the balls of your feet. In three short weeks you'll see an exciting difference. Glamour has backbone — it's posture.

3 Held For Thefts In Ohio And Indiana

CINCINNATI (AP) — Police held three men today for questioning about burglaries in Ohio and Indiana. Roger Roland Chain, 33, Wabash, Ind.; James Baird, 20, Cincinnati, and James Waggoner, 33, no known address, were arrested Wednesday when officers recognized their stolen panel truck.

Detective Ancil Russell said some of the loot from a Hillsboro bowling alley break - in Tuesday night was found in the truck. He said the men looted stockyard offices in Wabash and Huntington, Ind. and Chillicothe, Ohio, with the value of loot estimated at over $2,000. Chain, described as the leader, and Waggoner signed statements admitting the burglaries, police said.

Out Of The Air

By RICHARD K. DOAN

The Toughest Audience

The intimately small East Side Manhattan movie house where lines, queued up for weeks for "Tom Jones" last year was the scene last week of an unusual show.

It was all trailers. For an hour and a quarter, a capacity audience of invited hucksters watched Richard Doan snippets of filmed scenes from proposed TV series being considered by NBC for next season's prime-time schedule.

The network ran off the preview for the money people, the sponsors and their Madison Avenue agents, a tough crowd to please.

IF THAT CROWD'S reactions were what NBC was looking for, help in deciding which of some 30 possible series to pick for the fall, the network got some clues.

The only trailer that got a wave of spontaneous applause was one for a spy spoof, "Get Smart," starring Don Adams (late of the Bill Dana series) as Secret Agent 86. The pilot was created by Mel Brooks and Buck Henry and produced by Leonard Stern for David Susskind's Talent Associates.

A few other comedy excerpts got laughs, among them scenes from "The Good Old Days," a Desilu caveman romp starring Darryl Hickman and Bruce Yarnell; "Campo 44," fun-in-a-POW camp, created by David Westheimer, author of "Von Ryan's Express," and starring Philip Abbott, Fred Smoot and Jim Dawson, and "Wackiest Ship in the Army," a Screen Gems entry with Jack Warden and Garry Collins.

THERE WERE clips of several dramatic hours, such as "I Spy" with Robert Culp and Bill Cosby and "Guilty or Not Guilty" with Robert Ryan, but there was no measurable reaction to them from the crowd.

Some of the comedy sequences laid there, too. And several of the seemingly promising entries were dismissed with a few still pictures, among them "Steptoe and Son," based on the BBC hit series; "Mr. Roberts," the TV adaptation of the movie hit, and "Please Don't Eat the Daisies," from Jean Kerr's book and movie.

The network apparently did not get these pilots in hand soon enough to show clips from them. One NBC official denied any implication that the network was downplaying these entries because it already had decided to bypass them or hold them over until 1966-67.

LEST VIEWERS jump to the conclusion that the Madison Avenue bunch assembled for this "sneak preview" will be deciding the fate of the sampled shows, it can be reported that NBC also tests its prospective new series on plain ordinary viewers.

The network conducts theater screening sessions, primarily in Hollywood, to get public reaction to pilots.

Some of the studios producing TV series are not too happy about this procedure. They claim it tends to overweight favorably those shows in which the comedy is most frantic. It also tends, they say, to put one pilot into unfair competition with another, since several typically are shown at a single screening.

THE PROCEDURE has its flaws, according to its critics. One of the highest "ratings" ever achieved by a prospective program in one of these testing sessions reportedly was accorded a 1962-63 series, "Sam Benedict," which was not a notable success on air.

How many of these 30-odd pilots just developed NBC is going to have room for in its fall lineup can be only roughly estimated now. Apparently most cancellation decisions still are pending.

However, it is felt widely that viewers can expect next fall not to see such shows as "International Showtime," "Karen," "Hazel," "That Was the Week That Was," "Mr. Magoo" and "Kentucky Jones."

JACK PAAR's agents at last report still were talking with NBC, despite his announced intentions to quit.

There is no absolute certainty that such series as "Mr. Novak," "Dr. Kildare," "The Alfred Hitchcock Hour," "The Man from U.N.C.L.E.," "The Rogues," "Branded" and Jack Benny's program will be back next season.

The safest bets for the return list are the Saturday and Wednesday night movies.

Choir Rehearsal Set For Concert

Members of the District 1 of the Serbian Singing Federation of America, which includes the Dr. Laza Kostich Choir of Midland, will participate in a concert Feb. 20 at 3 p. m. at the Pittsburgh Carnegie Music Hall.

It will be in memory of the great composer of Serbian chorale music, Stevan St. Mokranjac. The concert will be free to the public.

The selections by the district's massed choir, will be a cappella, and then the individual choirs will present a number.

The participating choirs will meet Friday night for rehearsal at the South Side Serbian Club in Pittsburgh.

Fr. Milorad Dobrot, pastor of the St. George Serbian Orthodox Church, is director of the Midland choir.

Palestine Has Contest

H. T. Rambo To Oppose Mayor Robert Harding

Hugh T. Rambo filed late Wednesday afternoon with the County Election Board as a last-minute Republican candidate for mayor of East Palestine, opposing the incumbent, Mayor Robert Harding.

Harding, operator of a novelty ware concern, had filed earlier. Harry Felger, 35 Everett St. is an independent candidate for mayor. He also filed earlier.

East Palestine Republicans also will settle a two-way race for Council president and a three-man contest for the nomination for Second Ward councilman. The balance of the party's candidates are unopposed.

East Palestine Democrats will skip the primaries May 4 under the Ohio "no contest" law. Democrats filed a full slate, except for solicitor, but there are no races.

The aspirants automatically will be declared nominated without the formality of a primary and will be given certificates of nomination advancing them to the general election in November.

As an independent candidate for mayor, Felger also will skip the primary. His name will appear on the November ballot as the opponent of the Republican and Democratic nominees. Here's a complete list of the candidates:

Viet Assured Of Continued U.S. Support

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — President Johnson's aides began a round of conferences today after pledging to the Vietnamese people that the United States remains committed to the war here against communism.

"I can tell you plainly that the United States remains determined to work in partnership with you for the defeat of these aggressors," said presidential aide McGeorge Bundy in a statement on his arrival.

Bundy, Johnson's foreign policy adviser, arrived today on a three-day fact-finding trip on Viet Nam's political strife and war against the Communist Viet Cong.

Even as he spoke, however, Buddhist and other pressure groups threatened new antigovernment demonstrations next week. The lunar New Year holiday had brought a lull in the guerrilla war and religious disorders.

In addition to conferences with top U.S. officials in Saigon, Bundy also was expected to confer with strongman Lt. Gen. Nguyen Khanh and other Vietnamese officials. Other members of the President's mission included Leonard Unger, chief of the interagency task force on Viet Nam, and John McNaughton, assistant secretary of defense for security affairs.

Bundy said the visit was not related to Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin's trip today to Communist North Viet Nam.

Reports spread in Saigon that the Buddhists might stage more street demonstrations in an effort to oust three officials in the Khanh regime who helped put down Buddhist demonstrations last week.

SAIGON's military governor announced that a nighttime curfew — lifted for observance of the three-day lunar holiday — had been reinstated.

U.S. officials still had no word on the fate of Gustav Hertz, U.S. mission executive who disappeared Tuesday on a motorbike outing and presumed captured by the Viet Cong. Hertz, 46, of Leesburg, Va., was chief of the aid mission's public administration division.

$7,518 Fees Paid By Courts Clerk

LISBON — Carl L. Stacey, clerk of courts, reported a total of $7,518.38 was paid the county treasurer in fees collected in Common Pleas Court and the Car Title Department during January.

The clerk paid $7,000.18 to the state treasurer from the collection of sales and use taxes, and $58,728.78 was paid the state treasurer from the collection of the dealers' tax, the county receiving $663.93 for its 1 per cent poundage. The state also received $1,201.15 for car title fees.

There were 57 civil cases filed in Common Pleas Court and the title department issued 3,241 auto titles, 29 duplicate titles, 720 memorandums, two duplicates, 1,303 notations of liens, 1,014 cancellations of liens and 841 acknowledgments.

There were 444 titles issued for new vehicles, valued at $1,816,700, Stacey said.

Senate Votes President Power To Ship UAR Food

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has voted President Johnson the discretionary authority he asked to ship surplus foods to the United Arab Republic, but dealt him two setbacks on the domestic front.

It climaxed more than six hours of fiery debate Wednesday night by approving, 44 to 38, an administration - supported amendment modifying a House ban against shipments of surplus agricultural commodities to Cairo.

The administration lobbied to have the ban lifted on the grounds it would tie the President's hands in dealing with UAR President Gamal Abdel Nasser.

But minutes later, by a standing vote, the Senate attached to a $1.6-billion emergency agricultural appropriation an amendment to deny the Veterans Administration use of any funds heretofore voted to carry out its order closing 11 hospitals and four soldiers homes and relocating 16 regional offices.

After that vote, the Senate hastily passed the money bill providing funds to reimburse the Commodity Credit Corporation for losses incurred in farm price supports and related programs.

Earlier in the day, it adopted by voice vote another amendment to shut off any of the funds to carry out a Dec. 31 order by Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman calling for the closing of 20 agricultural research stations and projects in 34 other stations until Congress investigates this spring.

The measure now goes to a Senate-House conference committee where the administration will continue its drive for acceptance of the Senate modification by House conferees.

Although only five other Republicans joined Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois in voting to uphold the President's hand in dealing with Nasser, his impassioned speech may have turned the tide in favor of the administration.

Leading the fight for the House amendment, Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., said: "Although it may be said that Egypt does not have oil, the fact is that Nasser is the chief political leader of the Arab world, and his political power in the Arab world stands as a constant threat to American oil interests."

A Junior Editors Quiz About

QUESTION: Why did the old sailing ships carry figure-heads?

ANSWER: To the old-time sailing men, their ships were so important that they seemed almost alive. The beginning of ship decorating and figureheads seems to have been in Egypt or India. At first an eye was painted on the bow, the simple seafarers of that day feeling the ship would be better able to spy out a safe course. The Greeks and Romans also followed this custom (1) and elaborated on it by placing statues in parts of the ship. It is thought that the habit of displaying a female figure may have come from the Greek Athenians, using a statue of the goddess Athena on the bows of their ships. The famous "Winged Victory" set up on land to celebrate a naval victory (2) shows how a figure can symbolize the forward movement of the ship. In Renaissance days, ships were covered with carving to bear witness to the wealth and power of the nations to which they belonged. A beautiful figure was thought to bring good luck to the ship, and so, individual ship owners came to include a figure or bust, even if they couldn't afford other carvings. To many old time seamen, to ship on a vessel without a figure head would have been unthinkable.

FOR YOU TO DO: To bring out the beauty of the large figurehead in the picture, color the sea blue and the clouds behind orange, with the bowsprit and metal work brown. Leave the figurehead itself pure white, which will give an almost supernatural effect.

Peter Gadzinski of West Acton, Mass., wins today's combined prize of Compton's Illustrated Science Dictionary plus $10 cash for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of The Review.

Traffic Dead Hit Record Of 47,800 In '64

CHICAGO (AP) — A record traffic accident toll of 47,800 lives and $8.2 billion in economic losses last year was reported by the National Safety Council today.

The council contended in its report that prevention techniques are being applied "in a half-hearted, haphazard manner" in too many areas.

The 1964 death total showed an increase of 10 per cent over the previous high of 43,564 recorded in 1963.

An estimated 1.7 million Americans suffered injuries that disabled them beyond the day of the accident.

"The tragic record for 1964 is a clear indication that we have failed to keep pace with the vast growth of our automobile population," Howard Pyle, council president, said in a statement.

"Fundamental prevention techniques are widely known, but in too many areas they are a half hearted, haphazard manner."

"From 1954 to 1961 a limited application of these techniques contributed to a reduction of traffic fatalities from 9.8 deaths per 100 million vehicle miles to 5.2, a reduction of 47 per cent."

The council estimated that motor vehicle travel in 1964 totaled about 840 billion miles, a gain of 5 per cent from the previous year. The 1964 mileage death rate rose to 5.7 deaths for every 100 million miles of driving. The rate was 5.4 in 1963 and hit an all-time low of 5.2 in 1961.

The death toll for December was 4,540. It was the worst December on record. It marked the finish of a year when new monthly records were set every month.

Probation Requested In Traffic Death Case

LISBON — A probation investigation was ordered Wednesday by Judge Joel H. Sharp for Lawrence Moore, 49, of East Palestine, who changed his plea to guilty to an indictment of second degree manslaughter in the traffic death of Leonard Jones, 62, also of East Palestine, on Route 14 near Unity last Dec. 18.

The Grand Jury indicted Moore secretly Jan. 8 and he pleaded not guilty at arraignment. Richard Rose, adult probation officer, will make the investigation and report.

Wellsville Defendant Enters Innocent Plea

A Wellsville resident pleaded not guilty to three indictments Wednesday before Common Pleas Judge Joel H. Sharp and asked to have a fourth indictment quashed.

John A. Carter, 45, of 1424 Commerce St., pleaded innocent to three counts of sodomy. The other indictment is for intimidating a witness and impeding justice.

Carter was indicted Jan. 28 by the recalled Grand Jury.

Bond of $1,000 was continued in the sodomy cases and $2,500 bond in the other.

State Patrol Movie Shown Lisbon Group

LISBON — Ptl. Neal Gray of the State Highway Patrol post showed a new patrol film, "Wheels of Tragedy," for the Lisbon Lions Club Wednesday night at the cottage.

W. E. (Bill) Hiscox, chairman of the sight committee, reported purchase of two pairs of glasses has been approved and another case is under investigation.

Members were advised of the Lions state convention May 14-16 at Toledo.

Clyde Morris of Lisbon was a guest, and Glenn Reed, Richard Carter and John Doran of the Toronto Club were visitors.

2 Cleveland Firms Bare Merger Plans

CLEVELAND (AP)—National Castings Co. will become a subsidiary of Midland-Ross Corp. under a merger agreement announced by the two companies Wednesday.

The agreement, which must be approved by shareholders of both Cleveland firms, provides for exchanging each of the 664,147 shares of National Castings common for 45-100 share of a new $100 convertible preferred to be issued by Midland-Ross.

Cancer Fatal At 89

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — Oscar E. Buder, 89, lawyer and former owner of two St. Louis newspapers, died of cancer Wednesday. Buder and members of his family owned the St. Louis Times which was sold in 1932 to the St. Louis Star, becoming the Star-Times. The newspaper went out of business in 1951. The Buder family also owned a substantial part of the German-language daily, the Westliche Post before it went out of business in 1938.
